Mystery Wreck Still Unsolved?

Naval salvage experts are scheduled to return to Esquimalt at 9 a.m. today after apparently failing to identify the century-old mystery wreck in Sidney Inlet on the west coast of Vancouver Island. Bad weather hampered divers in their second unsuccessful attempt in five months.

Foreign Bankrolls Bring Free Spending

Bitter Awakening Ahead Coyne Warns Canadians

Unemployment, Recession Could Confront the Nation

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's senior banker told Canadians Tuesday they face a bitter awakening if they continue their free-spending ways financed by foreign bankrolls.

(See also Harry Young's comments on Page 6.)

Over-spending on capital growth and consumer goods—"the attempt to accomplish too much too fast"—carries the germs of recession and unemployment, governor James E. Coyne of the Bank of Canada said in his annual report tabled in the Commons.

It had led to a whopping $5,335,000,000 current deficit in international payments for the last four years, offset by foreign capital investments in Canada.

The longer this continues, Mr. Coyne said, "the more maladjustments will be built into our economy and the more difficult and painful will be the readjustments which will in time be forced upon us."

JAMES E. COYNE
. . . worried

Live Within Means

"We must in the end learn as a nation to live within our means, and exhibit the strength and will to do so. It would in my view be the path of realism to move firmly in that direction on a broad front without delay."

Mr. Coyne said Canada can achieve substantial annual increases in production and living standards without foreign aid "and without inviting foreign domination of our national life."

This would require avoidance of over-spending and over-borrowing, adoption of sound development programs and promotion of more diversified production.

"We need only to be aware of our problems to tackle them, to cast aside easy-going illusions and stand on our own feet."

Canada's record $1,460,000,000 international payments deficit last year resulted from a $386,000,000 commodity trade deficit and a $1,074,000,000 deficit in "invisible" transactions such as dividend and interest payments on foreign investments, travel and tourist spending and freight costs.

"We now are launched on another year with the prospective excess of total spending over production being greater than ever, presumably to be matched by an equivalent excess of imports which will have to be financed by foreign resources in one form or another.

Weaken the Economy

"The cumulative effect . . . must be to weaken the ability of the Canadian economy to meet the difficulties of the next recession to come upon us from abroad, and to make more likely the development of a domestic recession arising from excesses and structural strains within our own economy."

Even if Canada tries to continue this way, Mr. Coyne cautioned, "in a capital-hungry world we cannot in fact count on having ready access to foreign capital year after year on a large scale."

More diversified production in Canada would provide a higher average level of employment, less exposed to hazards of sudden change.

"A more moderate approach to economic development on the part of all sections of the community, and more emphasis on a balanced industrial structure, would also mean that Canadians would own a greater share in Canadian industry, that we would accumulate less debt to foreigners . . ."

It also would mean a smaller burden of paying for foreign debt, which could become a "serious embarrassment" with a major decline in the exchange value of the Canadian dollar requiring payment in more expensive foreign currencies.

Mr. Coyne's report suggested that governments adopt special measures in meeting problems such as aid to small businesses, to Canadian firms competing with foreign-owned subsidiaries, to individual industries and to particular areas.

Arms Parley

Shaky Start Made

GENEVA (CP) — The first East-West effort since 1957 to end the world arms race made a wobbly start Tuesday.

Delegates of the five Soviet bloc countries threw cold water on the proposal of the five Western countries for step-by-step disarmament under international supervision.

Premier Khrushchev sent a message to the opening session saying:

"I am deeply convinced that the day is not far off when the age-old dream of humanity will come true and the world will live without arms or war."

SHARP REBUKE

Criticism of the Western plan by the Soviet deputy foreign minister, Valerian Zorin, drew a sharp rebuke from the British minister of state David Ormsby-Gore.

He recalled that Khrushchev warned in Moscow Sept. 28 against "hurried statements" about the various disarmament proposals made at that time.

"I think those were very wise words," Ormsby-Gore said.

SECRECY FEAR

For Canada, Lt.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns said his government viewed the conference's first task as the destruction of the "complex of secrecy, suspense and fear" that stands in the way of effective disarmament measures.

More Than 400 Held

Gas, Fire Hose Used In Negroes' Arrest

ORANGEBURG, S.C. (AP) — More than 400 Negroes were arrested in South Carolina Tuesday—359 of them in Orangeburg — during demonstrations against segregated seating at lunch counters.

Police used tear gas and fire hoses to put down a demonstration by an estimated 1,000 Negro students here. Those arrested were charged with breach of the peace and were released on $10 bond each.

SEVENTY ARRESTED

Seventy were arrested at Rock Hill, 60 miles north of Columbia, as they picketed city hall. Ten more were arrested at Columbia and charged with trespassing at lunch counters in variety stores.

The mass arrests brought from the president of the state conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People a charge that police are using "strong-arm, fascist-like tactics. . . ."

FEDERAL AGENCIES

Rev. H. P. Sharper, a Baptist minister, said the arrests, and any resulting convictions, would be appealed "to federal agencies."

He charged that "responsible officials of our state and municipalities have shown no inclination to hear the students' grievances or to seek a democratic solution to the problems posed by their protests."

PROTEST MARCH

The arrests here came after a group of a dozen or so officers attempted to break up a protest march by about 1,000 students from the local South Carolina A and T and Claflin colleges.

When the students, marching in groups of about 100, refused to disperse, fire hoses were turned on three groups and two tear gas canisters were exploded at another group.

Heated Debate Ended

After an often-heated, six-hour debate, the legislature passed the $21,720 salary vote of Lands and Forests Minister Williston at 12.23 a.m. today.

Other 46 votes in his $15,662,889 estimates needed only 17 minutes more. The House sits today at 2 p.m. and at 8 p.m., and estimates of the provincial secretary and welfare and municipal affairs departments are on the agenda.

Briton Mourns Caesar's Death

Alsbury Blasts Bennett

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor Tom Alsbury exploded Tuesday in a demand that Premier Bennett communicate properly with city council.

"I get sick and tired of these backstairs suggestions that we get second hand," the mayor said in a council meeting.

His ire was raised at a report from Ald. S. Moffitt, who talked with Mr. Bennett in Victoria during the weekend about increased highways grants to Vancouver.

Vancouver will get $350,000 instead of the usual $23,000 for roadwork within the city this year, but council was told the money will be granted on a matching basis for improving approach roads to toll bridges and highways.

BCE Owners' Profit Up to $11,271,492

B.C. Power Corporation, parent company of BCE, made a net profit of $11,271,492 ($2.48 a share) in 1959. Earnings for the three previous years were $1.95, $2.34 and $2.33 a share.

Record customer demand for electricity and gas increased sales to $96,923,531 — up 16.4 per cent from 1958.

Operating expenses were $70,744,913—up 18.3 per cent.

Electricity sales jumped 9 per cent to 3,300,000,000 kilowatt hours.

Natural gas sales soared 60 per cent to 138,322,367 therms.

New gas customers were 16,000, for a total of 108,327.

Transportation business was depressed with passengers carried dropping from 101,000,000 in 1958 to 90,700,000 in 1959.

Quota Boost Unconfirmed

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming declined Tuesday to comment on a report that Japan's quotas on textile exports to Canada will be increased about 5 or 10 per cent during 1960.

Argue Hits Fleming

Mortgage Loan 'Choke' Charged

OTTAWA (UPI) — CCF House leader Hazen Argue last night accused Finance Minister Donald Fleming of being a dictator who was "choking off" federal mortgage funds in order to balance the budget.

He also said housing legislation now before the House of Commons was a "half-baked measure" which did not fulfill the government's promises.

Argue's half-hour speech touched off one of the noisiest exchanges of the session with Speaker Roland Michener ruling the socialist out of order about a dozen times as he wandered off the subject to criticize the government.

The debate was on second reading of a bill to authorize the government to increase by $500,000,000 the amount of money that can be loaned by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Works Minister David Walker, who was guiding the legislation through the Commons, said the greatest home construction in Canadian history was under way. He said 400,000 new homes have been built in the two-and-a-half years the Conservatives have been in power.

He predicted there would be 80-85,000 houses started this year with private funds, 20,000 started with government-guaranteed loans and 15,000 with direct government loans.

Earlier J. R. Garland (L-Nipissing) charged that the lending under the National Housing Act had "practically collapsed."

Garland said the government was "playing politics with housing and was using it at this time as a whipping boy."

Canadian Skim Milk In Bad Odor

TOKYO (AP) — Authorities in Okayama in southwestern Japan temporarily suspended the use of Canadian-imported skim milk distributed in primary schools after they found some of the milk had a bad odor. They said 135 children and six teachers at one school had symptoms of stomach pains and diarrhea last week after drinking the milk.

Warning—Beware Fraud Fake Sweep Ticket Label

MONTREAL (CP) — Police said three men are to be charged in court later today with operating a fake sweepstake in which tickets bearing the message "Warning — beware of fraud" were sold on non-existent horse races in California and Florida. Police said they believe no money was ever paid out and that examination of the list of winners showed that the horses did not exist.

Two men were arrested in raids Sunday and Monday on printing plants in Montreal and suburban Croydon. Sheets and booklets containing approximately 1,000,000 bogus tickets were seized.

City directories for Toronto, Ottawa, Vancouver and other cities were seized in the raids.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

(Reprinted, by nobody's request, from All Aboard Column of August 28, 1959.)

★ ★ ★

Another uniformed cowboy in the New Westminster police force has been rebuked for loosing bullets on the street.

This time a trigger-happy cop let fly at a speeding 16-year-old driver, hoping to puncture his tires and bring to a halt.

New Westminster police commission promptly served notice that officers were not to draw guns except in self-defence.

The commission had reason to be sensitive. In 1954, an airman was killed by police bullets fired at a speeding car.

Death is a heavy penalty to pay for speeding or taking a car without the owner's consent. A bullet fired to stop a car can easily go astray and kill the driver or a passing pedestrian.

Even to stop a desperate criminal, gunplay is a tactic of doubtful value. The game isn't just cops and robbers, as the kids used to play it on a vacant lot. It is a three-cornered game called cops, robbers and bystanders.

Something I never can understand is the spectacle of police letting drive with their pistols at fleeing bank robbers. This happens every now and then in North American cities.

The robber only takes money, but the cop who fires at the robber may take a life. And the life may be that of a child who has just toddled in to open a junior savings account, or an old lady who wants to make a Christmas club payment.

★ ★ ★

The free-and-easy attitude toward firearms, which is something inherited from frontier days, has always been more characteristic of the United States than Canada. Maybe the American Revolution had something to do with it.

Every U.S. cop, in his day-dreams, probably fancies himself a United States marshal shooting it out with Jesse James.

In recent years, some of the spirit of Tombstone and Boot Hill has begun seeping across the border. We don't want it here. Our gendarmes should be sternly ordered to keep their holsters buttoned. If they want to play "High Noon," they should join the Little Theatre.

Victim of Rolling Log

Mother Loses Fight for Life

Mrs. Madeleine Marie Mathers, 48, of 470 Nicola Place, who had been fighting death since Feb. 28 when a log rolled over her as she lay sunbathing on a beach, died yesterday in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart said last night no inquest will be held. He will complete an investigation today into the accident.

MOTHER OF TWO

Mrs. Mather, mother of two and a nurse at St. Joseph's Hospital, was sunbathing on Gordon Beach at Sooke when a 40-foot log suddenly rolled loose from a gravel bar above her and passed over her body.

One of her two children had been lying on the log minutes before the accident.

RECENT ARRIVALS

Mr. and Mrs. Mathers, their daughter Patricia, 15, and son Michael, 12, moved to Victoria early in December.

Her husband, William G. Mathers, is a director of the federal government agricultural biology laboratory in Victoria.

MASS SATURDAY

Prayers will be said Friday in McCall's funeral home at 8 p.m. and requiem mass will be sung at 10 a.m. Saturday in Queen of Peace Church.

Surviving are the widower and children; three brothers, Mr. Justice D. R. Verchere of Vancouver, now presiding at the current assize court hearings in Victoria; Dr. A. G. Verchere, Port Alberni, and Dr. A. T. Verchere of Ladysmith, and a sister, Mrs. George Dickson, Ladysmith.

B.C. May Ban Trading Stamps

Provincial legislation which would outlaw trading stamps and bonus games was proposed in the House yesterday in a report from the special legislative committee which has been investigating use of trading stamps and other promotional gimmicks.

The committee offers the legislature a suggested Trading Stamp Act which hits at trading stamp companies and would make it an offence to dispose of trading stamps to a retailer for use in his business.

There is no mention of a penalty, but committee chairman Dan Campbell (SC, Comox) indicated last night the legislature might decide to insert a penalty clause.

The suggested bill defines trading stamps as any form of cash receipt, receipt, coupon, premium ticket or other device, designed or intended to be given to the purchaser of goods by the vendor or on his behalf, and to represent a discount on the price of goods, or a premium to the purchaser.

It also includes offers, endorsed by the manufacturer on a wrapper or container in which goods are sold, of a premium or reward for the return of the wrapper or container to the manufaeturer.

The suggested bill would be a proclamation bill and would only be proclaimed when the government felt it necessary.

The committee report stated that while trading stamp plans seem to have focussed attention on the sales promotion methods now in use, that many sales promotion methods serve only to create a distraction from the serious and vital business of distributing goods.

It said cost of the stamp plans must inevitably be borne by either the consumer or the retailer and that trading stamp plans create absolutely no new business in any trading area.

REGINA (CP) — A bill designed to outlaw gift coupons and other promotional gimmicks was given second reading by the Saskatchewan legislature Tuesday.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE HELPS BREAK DOWN FATS IN THE DIGESTIVE TRACT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fats . . . actually breaks them down. It is an established fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fats are broken down and form a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your digestive tract, liver bile helps break down fats the same way. Many of the foods you eat reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down these fats . . . for easier and more complete digestion.

Carter's Little Liver Pills' exclusive formula of vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fats in your digestive tract.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, take Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Remember, Carter's not only relieve irregularity, but actually improve the flow of liver bile. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today!

'No Control On Timber' CCF Says

John Squire (CCF, Alberni) complained in the legislature yesterday the B.C. government has no control over operations of big companies like MacMillan & Bloedel and Powell River.

"The people of this province have the largest investment in MacMillan & Bloedel and Powell River," he said. "Without this timber the company couldn't exist. We hand over timber worth far more than money actually invested in the company and we have no control or say in their operations . . . we should exercise more control."

Opposition Leader Strachan ventured the opinion that "major corporations dictate major forestry decisions."

He urged the government to build up the forest service so there could be provincial control of forests, instead of handing huge tracts to big companies under tree farm licences.

E&N Land Return Ruled Impossible

Lands and Forests Minister Williston told the legislature yesterday it would be impossible for B.C. to buy back E & N land grant properties for the $108,000,000 suggested by Gordon Sloan.

He said most of the timber has been already sold or promised to timber operators by the railway company.

Mr. Williston, answering CCF fears that no sustained yield plan would be maintained on the 400,000 acres, said a whole mass of private tree farms are being reforested and sustained.

He said some of the land sold to private companies or individuals had reverted to the Crown.

"Now there is lovely second growth on it, they think they should have it back," he said. "Never a month goes by, but someone comes to me and says some mistake had been made."

B.C. Acts to Protect Reputable Brokers

The bill which may spell the death knell for bucket-shop security promoters in B.C. received second reading—approval in principle—in the legislature yesterday.

Before it passed, Attorney-General Bonner added an amendment which indicates no prosecutions will take place without the written consent of the superintendent of brokers.

Mr. Bonner explained the amendment by saying the bill could have placed an imposition on reputable brokers.

In its haste to prorogue on Friday, the legislature approved final reading of five bills, gave second reading to 23 others and received several new pieces of legislation.

Standards Raised For Public's Good

Some professional and semi-professional bodies raise minimum standards of entry to benefit those, already qualified, who did not have to conform to such standards, Prof. R. H. Heywood of the University of B.C. commerce department, said last night.

But, he added, the majority is honestly concerned with raising standards for the public good.

COLLEGE COURSE

Prof. Heywood was addressing the Victoria branch of the National Office Management Association on "Professionalism and NOMA University Course."

He said qualifications help to ensure a certain standard of service but are not necessarily a guarantee of it. In addition, the personal equipment of the person concerned has to be taken into account.

RAPID GROWTH

Referring to the NOMA course at UBC, Prof. Heywood said the rapid growth of bureaucratic offices and the pernicious habit of credit buying mean that office managers now have to be production engineers handling masses of data.

First graduates of the three-year course last year numbered 28 out of an original entry of 55. The second-year entry remained constant at 56 but last year—despite receiving twice as many inquiries as usual—entries were down to 32. A special committee is now investigating the reasons for this, he said.

A University Means INCREASED EMPLOYMENT

It means MORE JOBS for Victoria and the surrounding districts. Construction of the university will give many man-hours of work to various trades in the next five years, and will add wages and material at $5,300,000.00 —over $1,000,000.00 a year. To operate the new university after its completion will require added staff, providing steady employment for many more.

IT WILL BRING LASTING BENEFITS TO VICTORIA AND VANCOUVER ISLAND

The community will benefit in every way from the establishment of a higher education system in this area.

The beautiful new buildings will be a credit to our city. New families will be encouraged to make their homes here and all of their needs must be met, resulting in an upswing for business. A university education will be made possible for local young people who now find the cost too high.

"Let's Build Victoria's University!"

The necessary funds are being raised through public subscription and individual contributions.

In U.S. Mine Dozen Miners Found Dead

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — Bodies of 12 coal miners were found deep in a fire-scarred coal mine Tuesday.

Officials gave up hope that six other miners would be found alive, but the hunt continued.

The 18 were cut off March 8 three miles from the outside by fire and poisonous fumes caused by a rock fall that snapped an electric cable.

Two bolted around the fire and made it to safety. The remaining 18 decided to stay together and await help.

Colonel Urges Exposure to Nuclear Effects

OTTAWA (CP)—A Canadian Army colonel says soldiers should be exposed to effects of nuclear weapons for training purposes.

Col. A. J. B. (Tony) Bailey, DSO, director of military operations and plans at army headquarters, writes in the Canadian Army Journal that nuclear training has been neglected.

However, there is no chance the government would approve such tests.

"The battle school with its conventional overhead firing is not sufficient," Col. Bailey writes. "A way must be found, within the bounds of safety and economy, to expose soldiers to the effects of the nuclear weapon itself."

Actual nuclear tests at which soldiers have been present "have been so carefully staged with such elaborate safety precaution that the reaction of troops, as they emerge from well-protected dugouts after all danger has passed, has often been disdain for the potency of the weapon."

"If the soldier is to remain effective in the chaotic aftermath of the nuclear weapon, he must be thoroughly conditioned beforehand for the sights and sounds which he is expected to face."

Col. Bailey suggests simulators with sufficient potency to cause mild shock and temporary nausea and blindness on unprotected troops. In this way, protective measures would be adopted.

"A mild form of gas sufficient to make men vomit but cause no serious illness might be emitted from the simulator, and the flash at the instant of the explosion might be sufficiently bright to produce temporary blindness.

"These, and other ideas, should be the subject of detailed study if realistic training aids are to be produced. . . ."

The four, all country youths, who have never even been to Moscow, were installed in a $36-a-day resort-type motel suite, complete with room service, TV and swimming pool outside the door.

BY HELICOPTER

They were landed by helicopter from the U.S. Aircraft Carrier Kearsage, which picked them up March 6 after they had drifted for 49 days and 1,020 miles across the Pacific from the Kurile Islands, north of Japan.

Near death from exposure and starvation when rescued, they had gained strength and weight aboard the carrier.

The four are Victor Ziganshin, 22, a non-commissioned officer; seaman Ivan Fedotov, 21; and motor machinists Anatoli Kruchkowski, 20, and Philip Poplavski, 20. They were first identified as soldiers because of their army-type uniforms.

Anatole Kardashev, second secretary of the Russian Embassy in Washington, said their survival was a "good example of the strong spirit of our young people."

WEEK OF REST

The four, who are anxious to return to Russia, leave Thursday for New York and a week of rest at a camp operated by the Russian UN delegation. Then they will be flown to Moscow.

Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco, just back from Russia, said: "I'm going to give them a key to the city and a pat on the back."

FINIAL WORD

Before leaving the Kearsarge, they painstakingly printed in Russian a message to the men of the carrier:

"We Soviet sailors who were lost in a marine disaster in the Pacific Ocean, with all our hearts thank the officers and all the crew who saved us, and created such good conditions aboard the American warship."

Page Boys Cleared Out For Spicy Divorce Bills

OTTAWA (UPI) — Young page boys were cleared from the House of Commons again yesterday as two CCFers continued to delay the passage of divorce bills from Quebec and Ontario.

Frank Howard (CCF, Skeena) and Arnold Peters (CCF, Timiskaming) read sometimes spicy senate divorce committee testimony as they used up the private members' hour during which divorce bills are passed.

Both socialists readily acknowledge that they want to bring to a head the matter of divorces in Quebec and Newfoundland—which have no divorce courts—and have the issue removed from parliament altogether.

'Wide' Probe Urged Into Forest Tenure

An investigation of the "entire problem of forest tenure" in British Columbia and particularly the tree farm licence system was recommended by commission Judge C. W. Morrow in a report tabled in the legislature Tuesday.

The commissioner also recommended that the government should consider action for damages against timber companies who fail to carry out timber sale contracts and that there should be a review of the "deposit system" in timber sales in order to give timber sale operators "some relief."

NO COMMENT

The report was tabled without comment by Lands and Forests Minister Williston.

He later told a reporter that the government has as yet made no decision whether Judge Morrow's recommendation—or any one of them—will be implemented.

ASKED TO ADVISE

Judge Morrow, of Prince George, was appointed in January to carry out an investigation begun by the late Hon. Gordon Sloan, forestry adviser to the government. Mr. Sloan had been asked to advise the government concerning allegations that tree farm licencees bidding for unalienated crown timber, had an "unfair advantage" over other non-licenced bidders.

Mr. Sloan died before he could make his report to the government.

UNFAIR ADVANTAGE

Judge Morrow reported that in his view and on the basis of evidence given before Mr. Justice Sloan, tree farm licence operators "do not have, on competitive sales, an unfair advantage over other bidders not holders of tree farm licences—but they do have advantages."

The commissioner said the evidence led him to believe that timber sale operators genuinely felt they were at an unfair advantage when bidding against licencees, but the evidence adduced left a doubt in his mind.

Meeting at Geneva

THE ten-nation arms conference, which this week resumed last year's deadlocked debate at Geneva for a more determined try at finding a solution to the disputed issue of disarmament, is confronting what is probably the key-log in the postwar jam of international dissensions. If, West and East, there is sufficient resolution in favor of peace and full determination to lead in that direction, the formula chosen would become of less consequence than that fact. It is mutual distrust—deep-seated and not easily eliminated—that renders all approaches to the subject extremely difficult.

For nations of the world to expect an accord at the conference which would at a stroke of a pen remove the embittered differences between allies in the postwar decade and a half would be to anticipate too much. Both West and East have separate formulas through which they believe the world can be lead away from the nightmare of unlimited and unimaginable holocaust of war in the future. Both declare a willingness to disarm. Both want safeguards while that is being done and afterwards.

The ten-nation conference in the next few weeks may take on something of the tension of prior discussions on disarmament both inside and outside of the United Nations. If it does not arrive at some concurrence, however slight, it will fail in its real mission.

Canada has the honor of being represented at the conference, and no doubt is intent to do what it may to aid in a sincere and earnest effort towards the improvement of the international relations. Canada will be less absorbed with formulas than with plain and understandable guarantees of action which could bring disarmament gradually in its train.

If the log jam of distrust can be breached there would be some hope of forward action at Geneva. If it cannot, or if either or both sides are adamant on their own remedies to the rejection of all else, then this conference may have to be put down as one more unavailing try. That would be regrettable, and discouraging to people everywhere.

Wasting Time and Money

PERHAPS nothing has been more misleading than the Jeffersonian dictum that all men are equal. They are not. They are equal only in the sense of human dignity; they are far from equal in their aptitudes or inherent gifts. Everyone knows this to be true, for it is manifest in every phase of human activity. Yet the false notion persists.

It is particularly noticeable in the realm of education, where it is taken for granted that children should receive the same degree of higher teaching. This idea is wrong, for the simple reason that students are not alike in their ability to absorb and profit by such learning. What is mandatory is that young people should have equal opportunity to demonstrate their capacities and thus their fitness for university attendance. This the public school system of the province provides.

Dr. Earle Birney of the UBC faculty, speaking in a panel discussion on education this week, affirmed bluntly that about half the first-year students at UBC could be rejected for lack of ability. They are not qualified for university attendance. The result is, as he put it, that they are a drag in the classroom and a waste of money and teaching effort.

It is a parental goal that children should attend university, a laudable ambition but one which should not put ability at a discount. Education is the most expensive factor of society, and once children have been given the chance to attain a high standard and fail to do so this fact should be recognized. Universities should be reserved for those qualified for entry.

In the case of UBC apparently Tom, Dick and Harry can enrol even though obviously unfit for the teachings of this institution. Dr. Birney said Point Grey has to accept such students because it doesn't set up matriculation standards. Isn't it about time that it did?

Half-Measure Reform

ATT.-GEN. BONNER'S bill in the British Columbia Legislature to increase the daily rate of pay to jurors will be heartily endorsed in principle, though not in detail. The thing wrong with it is the amount of the increase: a mere $2 a day. That makes the bill hardly worth introducing. It is most unfortunate that an otherwise commendable and long overdue reform should be ruined by half measures.

When $6 a day was fixed as the compensation for jury service that wasn't bad pay. Today it is peanuts; and the $8 a day proposed by the attorney-general is not much better. For an eight-hour day it works out at $1 an hour, which is a good deal less than an employer has to pay for unskilled labor. The very least that the state should pay to the men and women chosen for the great responsibility of jury service is $12 a day—and even at that nine jurors out of ten would be grossly under-paid.

It never was the intention, and never should be, to treat jury service as a form of employment, to be paid for accordingly. On the other hand no one should be compelled by the laws of the country to suffer financial loss on account of performance of a public duty. At $8 a day jury duty will be a punishing experience for the average salary or wage earner, and doubly unjust because the burden is placed on a few citizens unfortunate enough to be called. Family men with heavy domestic commitments cannot afford to surrender ordinary pay of $20 or $25 a day for the $8 which this bill would allow; for days and sometimes weeks on end.

If the jury system of trial is worth retaining, surely the country can afford to pay to those honored by selection compensation at least approximating closer to what is the province's minimum scale of living.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

IN the last war the Canadian casualties totalled about 95,000, with some 42,000 of them being fatal. That was not so many as during the first world conflict, when more than 62,000 dead were counted.

It was enough, however, for one generation. It was enough to make us shrink from another war.

Yet war is not the only dreaded killer. Peace can be even more lethal, only the impact is small and insidious rather than large and abrupt. And the weapon is not a tank or a bomber plane but an automobile.

Since 1937, the record shows, no fewer than 50,000 deaths have occurred on the highways of Canada. This is more than 50 times the number of fatalities at Dieppe, listed in history books as a black day for this country. Few people think of highway deaths as a black mark for the nation.

War comes as a shock to everyone, focussing attention on a huge drama. It is loud and collective. A highway accident is by contrast quiet and personal.

The latter is the type of event, also, to which we have become conditioned. Actually this is a brain-washed age; mass communication brings so many things to our notice we accept them as normal since multiplicity defies separate analysis.

We grow used to things, and quite obviously we have grown used to highway fatalities. Were another war to break out tomorrow, even with the foreknowledge that our casualties would not exceed those of 1939-45, we would be appalled at the prospect.

We have lost approximately that many citizens since the end of the last war but nowhere does either authority or citizenry seem appalled.

It is a matter of perspective, doubtless, and life tends to blunt the senses. Presumably even in ancient days, when in proportion war was a more deadly affair than it has been in modern times, people grew used to violent death.

Wars nowadays result in colossal casualties because they go on night and day for months and years at a time. For sheer intensity nevertheless the older battles were more sanguinary. Hand-to-hand combats were desperate affairs even though lasting only minutes or hours.

At Waterloo, for instance, 40,000 Frenchmen, 15,000 British and 7,000 Prussians were put out of action between 11.30 a.m. and 9 p.m. Bunker Hill lasted a mere hour or two and yet 1,250 British and 450 Americans were killed. Washington destroyed 1,500 Hessians at Trenton in three-quarters of an hour.

Forty-five minutes disposed of 1,200 clansmen at Culloden. Flodden was fought between 4 p.m. and dawn the next morning, and 14,000 men lay dead on the field. In three hours at Agincourt the fatalities numbered 11,600. The Charge of the Light Brigade took 20 minutes but two-thirds of the famous 600 did not return.

These were black days for the nations concerned, but since in those days wars were always short but bloody, battle losses would be accepted as the normal rote of things.

The rote on our highways is no less taken for granted. Because accidents happen in ones or twos, or in dozens or hundreds at holiday weekends—but not in tens of thousands in a few hours—we grow insensible to the continuing toll represented by 50,000 deaths since 1937.

Even so, and allowing for gradualness, our complacency is astonishing even shocking.

Letter from London

World's Mess Due to Scientists?

By RICHARD L. THOMAS

THE other day Lord Boothby, for many years an effervescent Tory MP and now a life peer, made a pronouncement on the internal combustion engine. It had, he said, been the greatest instrument of destruction the world had ever known. He said it apropos of an argument on the lack of British initiative in space research, which he thought was an excellent thing. He could see no purpose footling round space, and he implied that most of the world's mess was due to the scientists.

He said it on television, and it was seen and heard in probably ten million British homes. And the chances are that he was quite right.

★ ★ ★

Scientists have a great deal to answer for and there seems to be something in the suggestion that they have leapt a few stages ahead of man's intelligence. We unlock the secrets of the world but we scarcely know how to use them when we find them. Our sense of proportion has gone haywire.

The other day the minister of defence announced that we were going to spend more than $100,000,000 on a warning system which would give just four minutes' warning (if we were lucky) that a ballistic missile was coming towards us. It would give very few people a chance to do anything, but there was a probability that we could get some atomic bombers into the air. They would deliver what we call the "deterrent" and thereby complete the destruction of civilization. And there would be no exciting instalment next week.

The only virtue I can see in the four-minute warning is that it gives much greater time than some car drivers give their victims.

But where are we?

Has science really reached the point where it is beyond man's capacity to control efficiently the resources at his command?

We have almost reached the point where no one in the scientific world can be sure that he really knows his job. We have men in the Royal Air Force who learned to fly in 150 mph aircraft and now control 2,000 mph missiles. No sooner do they master the latest development than they find that it is already obsolete.

Naval officers confide that seamanship hardly seems to matter any more. They have to be super-technicians on a ship controlled by electronic buttons. The army is beginning to wonder whether it will have very much to do except burrow underground and develop a capacity to survive on radio-active food.

The wizard of one week is left behind the next. Airline pilots have barely become thoroughly acclimatized to one kind of airliner before they are on an instruction course for another—and to a lesser extent that runs right through industry. The real problem of the world, according to one doctor, is the exhaustion of men's mind.

At the beginning of the century most people walked to work. A few went by horse bus. Perhaps half of them read a newspaper and relied upon it for most of their after-school education. They spent the evenings reading books, making music or talking amongst themselves. They went for a spot of conviviality to the pub on the corner. More than half the working population were engaged in employment demanding skill and concentration, many were craftsmen.

Today everyone is keeping up with the Joneses. "Steam" radio is piped into one room, television into the other. The car is parked outside and will be used probably to mail a letter in a box 200 yards down the street. The telephone keeps him in touch with personal problems. The time-payment collector is on the doorstep and most people are either doing a deadly dull semi-automatic job or bursting their brains trying to keep ahead of the youngster just down from college.

Men fly round the world in three days. Why? Mainly because the firm next door is doing it.

Unfortunately—or maybe in the long run, fortunately, man's brain has not changed fundamentally for hundreds of years. It is better disciplined, it has increased its capacity to absorb—but it is doubtful whether it has increased enough to keep pace with the instruments of its creation. Most people lack opportunity for the curative properties of leisure.

Maybe if we left the car at home, went for a long walk and then waited, we would hear the birds again, hear the song of the sea and at least be comfortable instead of worried when the darned thing goes off.

Parkinson's Law

Nation of Civil Servants

(From The Calgary Albertan)

SIMPLY because Professor C. Northcote Parkinson has the happy faculty of writing clear-cut, witty prose many people seem to think that he is merely joking with his now famous First and Second Parkinson's Laws.

Prof. Parkinson's First Law—"Work expands so as to fill the time available for its completion"—is really no joke but an easily observable phenomenon in any organization where a large part of the staff is engaged in directing the efforts of others — any civil service is a good example of this, but there are many other good examples in private business.

The Second Law — "Expenditure rises to meet income" — can be attested to by any observant person who has ever received as much as a $5-a-week raise in pay, and is also particularly applicable to expenditure by goverments at all levels.

Getting back to the First Law, we have just read where the federal civil service has increased by 309 per cent since 1938, while the population level of Canada as a whole has increased by only 55 per cent.

Admittedly there have been other factors at work besides Parkinson's Law. There has been the tremendous proliferation of federal regulation of private business (not all of it a bad thing, but excessive in total), the great increase in social welfare measures (again not necessarily bad in itself, but costly and awkward to administer), and the heavy ownership by government of businesses in direct and indirect competition with private business.

But even granting the outside factors, consider a projection of this increase of the federal civil service, so far ahead of the normal population increase, and the whole thing becomes frightening.

With Parkinson's Law at work and dictating that in the civil service, as in any other organization, the number of subordinates will multiply at a predetermined rate regardless of the amount of work that the staff will turn out, the prospect is that Canada will soon become a nation of civil servants. And as the number of non-civil servants falls in relation to the civil servants the tax load to support this will grow heavier.

Perhaps, just perhaps, Prime Minister Diefenbaker's proposed "Hoover-type" commission to investigate waste, extravagance and over-lapping of work in the civil service can mitigate somewhat the effects of Parkinson's Law. But when we consider the civil service increase — more than 10,000 persons—just since the start of the Diefenbaker regime, we confess to having doubts.

Controlling Growth

(From The Trentonian, Ontario)

WHEREVER there are planning boards there is controversy. There are those who consider a planning board an unmitigated evil. They resent the controls which must be imposed in order to secure the design end of planning, an orderly community in which all property owners get the best use and the most value from their property.

Enthusiasts for planning, and they are many, want boards and their programs backed fully by councils.

It has to be said often that planning boards are created by, and work for, elected councils. The decision to pass a zoning bylaw, and have an official plan, is made by elected representatives. It is for them to enforce such bylaws as they pass.

There will never be complete acceptance of the principle of planning. Some people will always consider it a hindrance and an invasion of private rights. Their feeling is natural.

Thus councils, and the boards they appoint, must seek to make their bylaws strong enough to secure the desired end, yet flexible enough to avoid undue interference with individual rights. With all of its machinery set up, a zoning bylaw can be an effective means of controlling growth, and protecting property owners.

The most that can be hoped for is that all who are involved in planning will make constant efforts to acquaint the public with the reasons behind the bylaw. After that, it is simply necessary to decide upon a carefully considered bylaw, and enforce it for the general good.

From the Scriptures

I love them that love me; and those that seek me early shall find me.—Proverbs, 8:17.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

THERE are many women and a few men who can't pass by an antique shop. There are many men and a few women who can't pass by an old book store.

There are three kinds of old book stores. First in dignity come the antique book shops, presided over usually by scholars of extraordinarily wide interests combined with acute business instincts unusual in scholars. In these, the books are filed, catalogued and shelved as efficiently as in the great libraries.

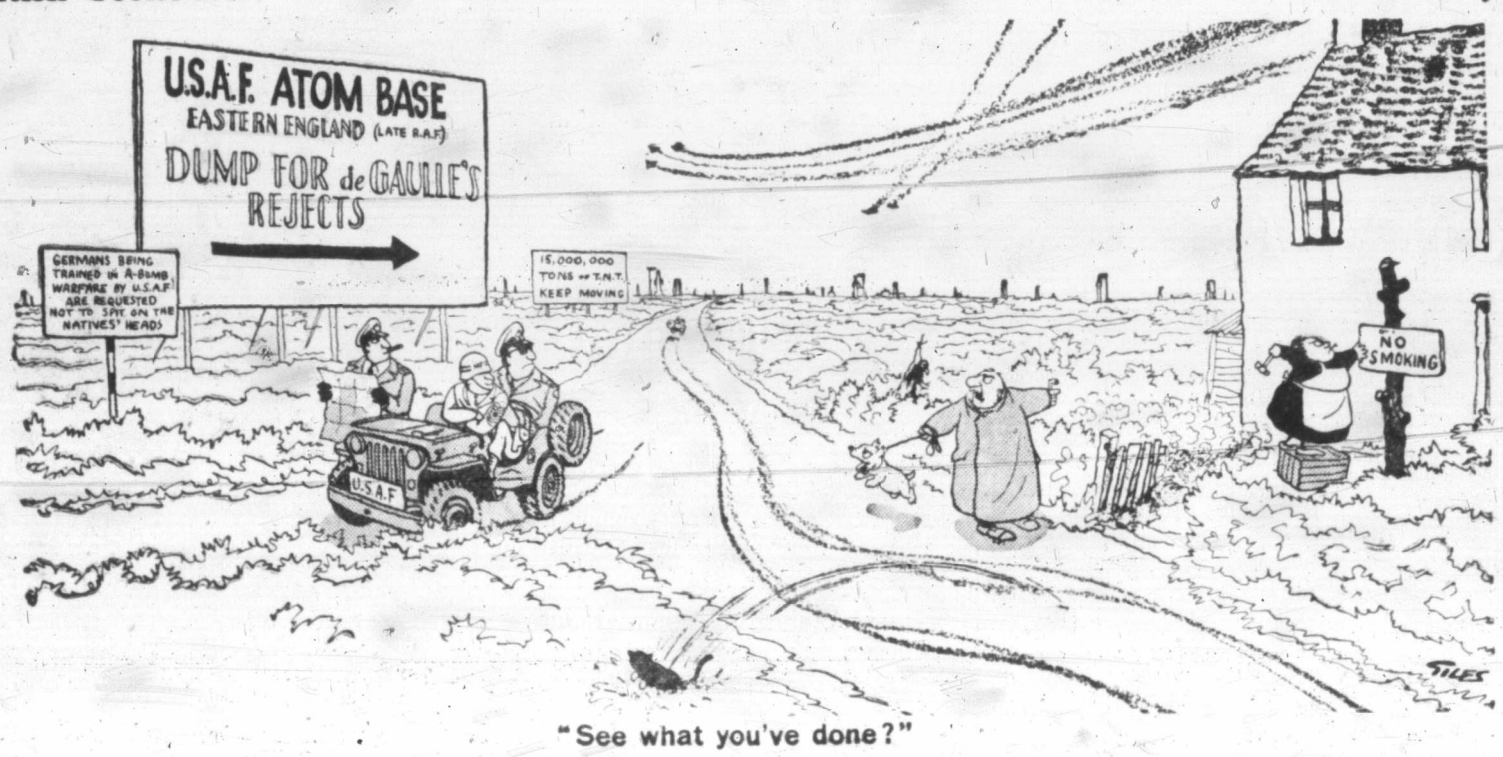

Next come the second-hand book stores presided over by a species of merchant who isn't at all sure what he's got except an awful pile of books. Sometimes an attempt is made in second-hand book stores to reach some kind of order. But as a rule the books are in heaps and lumps, looking as if they had just been dumped out of cartons after having been purchased from the late departed: which indeed most of them are.

The last are the book junk shops. These are the final repositories of the books the second-hand dealers could not sell, and are handled more or less as waste paper rather than as books.

Don't let us forget auction sales. Sometimes auctioneers will include the libraries of the houses whose contents they are raffling off. But in most cases the antique books dealers have been there before the auctioneers.

But in all of them, even the junk shops, abides the everlasting lure of something precious waiting to be discovered.

Ill-Lit Streets

We seldom drive at night but Sunday I had occasion to do so and was shocked to see lights only on one side of the road on Fort Street, Cook Street and Dallas Road. I barely missed a couple in dark clothing crossing Cook Street. The woman's silk stockings were the only thing that saved them. Is the whole town like this?

Victoria at night looks poverty-stricken. Are we so hard-up? Surely people's lives come before an auditorium or a university.

Raw Deal

Re veterans' allowance: I am glad to see that someone has started to show the way some of us veterans are being treated.

In my case I had paid into a pension fund for a number of years, when the food was half the price and the pound sterling was worth $4.75. Now my pension only buys a little more than half what it used to and I am stopped this amount out of my veterans' allowance as well as my old-age pension.

I suggest to Mr. MacNicol and the Canadian Legion, and other veterans' organizations put the matter to the federal member, Mr. Pearkes, and ask him to take it up with the people in charge.

Surely he and they will see we are getting a raw deal.

Civic Hypocrisy

Bingo games are run by some churches and charitable organizations. Gambling is permitted in clubs and no one can say that these organizations are not honest and respectable; but when a man wishes to have a little flutter on the races, it costs a bookie, who is a respectable and ailing man, and who after many years does not know any other way of making a living, a month in jail.

Surely there is a great hypocrisy in our city. Why not concentrate on really serious crimes.

Alice Stays Home

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Reversing its stand, the New Jersey child welfare board Tuesday ruled Mr. and Mrs. Richard Combs can adopt Alice Marie, their gifted four-year-old ward.

The parents learned they had won after attending the burial of Combs' mother.

"I don't know what to say. The good, the bad happened all at once," said Mrs. Combs. Then she burst into tears.

Alice Marie was given to the Combses at 10 months. The board found she had superior intelligence and sought to place her in a home it thought could develop her talents better.

The Combses fought a two-year court battle to adopt her.

The board explained:

"We feel that few things are more damaging to a child than to be fought over by its parents in the courts, press and over the air waves."

Modern way to deal with CONSTIPATION

As middle age approaches, the problem of constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet often becomes serious. Fortunately, there is a safe, pleasant way to correct it.

You do this by eating a food that gives you the kind of bulk you need for natural regularity. In other words, a small serving of Kellogg's All-Bran once a day.

You see, Kellogg's All-Bran is a whole bran cereal—and bran is nature's best bulk-forming food. A daily half-cup of Kellogg's All-Bran with milk provides all the bulk required to aid regularity.

Try appetizing Kellogg's All-Bran for 10 days and see if it doesn't work for you.

MAX FACTOR discovers the formula for Velvety-Smooth skin!

Swedish Formula

hand and body lotion and hand creme

Swedish Formula marks the end of rough, dry hands ... smooths, softens, heals and protects your skin. Our Canadian climate robs skin of moisture, leaves it parched and chapped. Now Max Factor has created Swedish Formula ... a specially prepared blend of moisturizers and beauty oils which together produce effects far beyond that of each if applied separately. Swedish Formula is absolutely essential for dry, rough hands!

Hand and Body Lotion, $1.50

Hand Creme, $1.25

Western Oils Continue To Advance

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market, led by Western oils, scored its third straight advance amid light trading.

Texaco Canada led industrial winners with a 2½ point advance at 50. Canada Malting and Ford Motor each gained 1½ at 47 and 71. Dominion Stores jumped 1¼ at 45¼ and Cockshutt Plow increased ½ at 15⅛.

Mines were quiet but most senior issues scored minor gains. Gaspe Copper added a point at 21. McIntyre-Porcupine gained ½ at 26½ and Hollinger advanced ⅝ at 24⅝. Senior uraniums were lower. Algom lost ⅛ at 10⅝, Gunnar slipped 10 cents at $8.15 and Consolidated Denison was down five cents at $9.95.

Calgary and Edmonton led western oils with a one point win at 19¾. Home Oil A gained ⅞ at 11⅛ and Canadian Superior Oils advanced ⅝ at 12⅛.

Pipelines Climb

MONTREAL (CP) — Western oils were the feature for the second successive day.

Calgary and Edmonton was up ¾ at 19¾, Cent Del Rio 15 cents at $5.25, Home A ⅞ at 11⅛, Home B 42 cents at 10⅛, Pacific Petroleum ⅝ at 11¾ and United Oils 20 cents at $1.62.

Paper and pulp stocks saw Abitca down 2 at 22, Southam off 1½ at 80, and Consolidated up ¾ at 37½.

Interprovincial improved ⅝ at 58½ in pipelines and Trans-Canada climbed ½ at 23¼.

Other changes included Union Gas, up 1 at 13¾, Dominion Stores up 1½ at 45 and Massey-Ferguson up ½ at 9¾.

Strong at Close

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market rallied sharply to make it three consecutive advances and four out of the last five sessions.

Gains of two and better were sprinkled throughout the list. Support, shaky at the start, picked up momentum toward noon, slacked off during the fourth hour and then gave the market a final big lift in the closing minutes.

Steels led the advance.

Among the blue chips to finish with good gains were International Paper, up 2, and United Aircraft, Union Carbide, Anaconda, Texaco and Woolworth, all up more than a point.

The rails made it five consecutive gains and since last Wednesday have lifted their average a total of 6.76 points.

MacMillan Gains

VANCOUVER—Interest continued in the oil and gas stocks. Pacific Petroleums was in strong demand at $11¾ while Trans Canada closed at $23¼. Vantor, the most active trader, closed at 50 cents after rising to 53 cents.

MacMillan-Powell advanced to $15⅝ and Consolidated Mining to $17¾. Okanagan Helicopters was up a nickel at 3.95.

Mines were mixed in quiet trading.

RE-INVESTMENT LARGE

Simpsons Ltd. net profit in 1959 was $4,503,224 ($1.44 a share), a slight reduction from the $4,624,709 ($1.53 a share) in 1958 despite the fact that net sales were up 5.8 per cent. Higher costs and income taxes were held responsible for the net earnings drop.

Simpsons Sears Ltd., which Simpsons owns jointly with Sears, Roebuck and Company made $6,219,585, all of which was re-invested in the business.

NEW 'COPTERS BOUGHT

Okanagan Helicopters has introduced a new line into its charter fleet by purchasing two 12E light utility helicopters from Hiller Aircraft Corporation of Palo Alto, Calif.

Hiller 12E has 305 horse power engine, and has a power kit to up-grade performance if needed. Okanagan plans to use it for high altitude geophysical work presently being done by their heavier ships.

Coyne Gives Warning Of Dangerous Trend

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Governor James E. Coyne, of the Bank of Canada does not think a great deal of the fundamentals of the Canadian economy, if I read aright his annual report to the House of Commons.

His report appears as a sternly worded warning to the government that overspending, borrowing foreign capital and an adverse trade balance is extremely dangerous.

He fears a continuation of the trend would have the cumulative effect of weakening the ability of the Canadian economy to meet the difficulties of the next recession whether it comes from abroad or as a result of internal stresses and strains.

FINGER WAGGLE

With an admonitory waggle of his finger, Mr. Coyne tells the government that there is a limit to what the Bank of Canada can do to save the economy.

"The central bank is the only agency in Canada which is charged by stature to conduct its operations in such a way as to promote price stability, rising employment and economic growth" said Mr. Coyne.

LIMITED POWER

But he added that the power of the central bank to prevent inflation by monetary controls was limited, and it could not accomplish such a result without co-operation.

Monetary expansion, low interest rates and abundant loans would not cure Canada's problems, but rather would aggravate them in the opinion of the governor.

"This is not pessimism but realism" he told the government.

RALLY LAGS FOR CPR

While 1959 was a better year for Canada than 1958, Canadian Pacific Railway did not participate fully in the recovery, according to N. R. Crump, president, in the annual report.

Railway revenue rose by 2 per cent, but freight revenue was adversely affected by strikes in the steel industry in the U.S. and in the forest industry in B.C.

Overspending Weakening Economy

Net income after fixed charges was $31,288,931 ($1.97 a share) compared with $32,903,038 ($2.09 a share) in 1958.

From its other sources of income CPR made $776,348 from steamship operations against a loss of $1,212,571 in 1958, and the net earnings from hotels and communications was $2,709,556 against $481,393 a year ago.

FAST RECOVERY

An extremely sharp and fast recovery in the demand for nickel is credited with International Nickel Company of Canada's more than double net income during 1959.

Net profit was $85,157,000 ($5.83 a share), compared with $39,665,000 ($2.71) in 1958, and $86,141,000 ($5.90) in 1957.

Nickel deliveries were 317,040,000 pounds against 205,800,000 pounds in 1957 and copper deliveries rose to 252,450,000 pounds from 210,570,000 pounds.

Company says a good start has been made to 1960 and that the outlook is good for the rest of the year.

Smouldering Embers Once a Home

Smouldering embers was all that was left of a three-bedroom farmhouse near Duncan destroyed by fire yesterday while Nils Reierson—shown surveying the smoking ruins with his son, Raymond—was job-hunting and his wife doing church work. "We haven't a thing," he said. Friends have donated bedding and a drive has started for furniture and clothing. —(Colonist photo by Charles Thompson.)

Copter Plucks Five from Mountain

ELY, Nev. (AP)—A helicopter rescued five people Tuesday, including a six-year-old boy and his grandmother, from a 11,000-foot mountain where their light plane crashed Sunday.

Mrs. Helen Stoddard, 49, and Randy Cumbie, 6, both of Anchorage, Alaska, were flown here first. Nearly six hours later, after a delay caused by high winds and blowing snow, the others were rescued. They are the pilot, 50-year-old Wes Stoddard, veteran of flights and rescue missions over the Alaskan bush country; Mrs. Horace Cumbie, 28, the boy's mother and daughter of Stoddard; and Mrs. Joseph V. Lee, about 65, of Heyburn, Idaho, Stoddard's aunt.

They were suffering from exposure and various injuries.

Wenner-Gren Railroad

10-Mile-Wide Reserve Set

By ALEC MERRIMAN

British Columbia has established a 10-mile-wide reserve along the proposed route of the Wenner-Gren railroad in northern B.C., Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston disclosed in the legislature last night.

He explained that it was a Crown reserve and not a reserve for any individual or company. It means that any applications for land in that belt will be held up for top-level scrutiny.

REAL ATTEMPT

Mr. Williston said it is a real attempt to stop land speculation in the area.

Route of the proposed 600-mile railway is from Summit Lake on the PGE railway north of Prince George to Teslin Lake, on the B.C.-Yukon border.

Mr. Williston also disclosed that B.C. has been co-operating on an informal basis with the Alaska highway and rail commission with regard to economic studies of the B.C. and Alaska northland and general route of the proposed railway.

But the CCF was unhappy with answers from Mr. Williston and persisted the government should not proceed with the railway until it had full information of route, costs and there had been negotiations with federal and American authorities.

BIGGEST SELLOUT

"We have had the biggest sellout in history already. Are you going to expand it now?" Randolph Harding (CCF, Kaslo-Slocan) asked.

He was referring to Wenner-Gren plans to develop the Peace River and now the railway.

"The people of B.C. want to know this side of the election what you are going to do," he asked.

CHARGE DENIED

Mr. Williston denied Opposition Leader Strachan's charge that there is a secret file concerning Wenner-Gren proposals.

Mr. Strachan said the government had handled the railway question in a "deceptive manner from the start."

Members of this side of the House are not happy at all. Now we find the route is miles to the west of where it was originally proposed to tap the rich resources of the Rocky Mountain Trench.

"We have been sold a pig in a poke. Is this the best route to Alaska? This might not be the best route to Alaska," he maintained.

Mr. Williston said detailed surveys of the route are now being completed and they will be forwarded to the railroad department under Commercial Transport Minister Lyle Wicks.

The opposition pointed out there was confusion in the memorandum of intent as to whether the construction of the railroad was to start April 1 or before June 1.

Mr. Williston admitted there was confusion but he did not appear to attach too much importance to it.

He said he understood the actual "moves" were to start April 1, but anyone who knows that country knows they can't start actual construction in the snow of April, he said.

Both dates are mentioned in the memorandum of intent.

Bryant Tory Choice

James Bryant, deputy reeve of Esquimalt and a municipal councillor for 10 years, will carry the Progressive Conservative banner in the next provincial election in Esquimalt riding.

He won out over lawyer R. L. McQuarrie at a nomination meeting last night in St. Paul's Church.

Mr. Bryant will retire from the naval dockyard engineering department in May after 26 years' service.

Another Taxi Given Stand

City council public works committee yesterday recommended that a third exception of recent months be made to a long-standing policy and a taxi company be given a stand on the street, at Broughton and Douglas.

But at the same time it decided, in the words of Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean, to "point out to council the direction in which we are moving and ask council to consider if that's what we want."

Assessment Pact Broken

Legislation to End Pulp Mill Tax Fight

MacMillan and Bloedel's Port Alberni operations will lose its 15-year immunity to rising assessments in a bill introduced in the legislature yesterday by Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

When passed, the Act will remove the under-assessment for local school tax levy purposes fixed at $800,000 in a 1945 Port Alberni bylaw and scheduled to run 20 years.

Port Alberni council has been fighting for removal of the fixed assessment bylaw as placing an unfair burden on taxpayers of the city since the Assessment Equalization Act's provisions made sweeping changes in taxing formulas in 1956.

The agreement, due to terminate in 1965, was upheld by the B.C. Appeal Court and the Supreme Court of Canada last year in the face of council efforts to have it declared illegal.

The city council contended that the Assessment Equalization Act abrogated the agreement, and the B.C. Supreme Court had upheld council's stand in 1958.

Property and installations at the Alberni Pulp and Paper division of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. are now valued at more than $32,000,000.

In the past two years, while litigation was in progress, the company has made grants equal to the amount which would have been collected in school taxes had the agreement not existed.

The bill introduced yesterday would become effective after Dec. 31, 1959.

The bill provides for the mill rate, and makes provision for the 1960 assessment-roll revisions for the city relating to an equitable level of assessed values on major industrial property because the date for completion of assessment rolls is now past.

British Columbia Eliminated; Three Other Rinks All Tied

Barring a most unlikely series of results, British Columbia, three times winner of the Eaton Trophy in the seven years it has been up for competition, was eliminated yesterday as play in the eighth—and last—annual Western Canada ladies curling championship reached the half-way point.

British Columbia was outscored for the third straight time, 11-8 by Manitoba's defending champions from Flin Flon. The best Irene Frazer's Vancouver quartet can hope for now would be a four-way deadlock, still possible but highly improbable because the West Coasters so far have not indicated they have the shots to win three in a row.

	W	L
Saskatchewan	2	1
Manitoba	2	1
Alberta	2	1
British Columbia	0	3

Today's draws:
9 a.m.—Saskatchewan vs. Manitoba; Alberta vs. B.C.; 1.30 p.m.—B.C. vs Saskatchewan; Manitoba vs. Alberta

With Saskatchewan edging by Alberta, 8-7, in yesterday's other game, the first half of the double round-robin series ended with the three Prairie rinks all at 2-1.

All three have their supporters with Saskatchewan still the favorite of most but Alberta earning a long look with its fine comeback try against the classy Saskatonians. Ex-Manitobans are still vocal in their support but Mrs. Isabel Ketchen and her 1959 champions have looked shaky in their first two games and may have had just a bit the best of the breaks in their opening win over Saskatchewan.

Yesterday, Saskatchewan looked well-nigh unbeatable in romping to an 8-2 lead over Alberta after eight ends. Joyce McKee, who earned the ultimate "she skips like a man" from male viewers as early as her first game, was calling the shots perfectly, never had a miss herself for nine ends, and had sound support from her rinkmates.

CLUTCH SHOTS

But Mrs. Dorothy Thompson, who won the event for Alberta in 1954, is a cool and capable scrapper and refused to concede it was all over. Finishing beautifully with some tremendous clutch shots, she picked up two on the 10th and one on the 11th to head home down by only two rocks. And she might have won it except that she came up with one of her few misses on the home end.

Slightly wide on her last rock, Mrs. Thompson, laying first and third rocks, missed a takeout which could have left her counting three and left Miss McKee needing to hit and stick to avoid an extra end. The Saskatchewan skip didn't throw her last rock, conceding the Alberta rock counting.

B.C. took 4-3 and 7-6 leads against a Manitoba rink, which was improved over Monday night, but not yet curling together to keep pressure on. The Manitobans, however, came along as the game neared its end, went ahead on the ninth and stole points on the 10th and 11th ends.

SECOND CHANCE

Time was taken off in the evening for the annual banquet but play resumes this morning with the first of today's two draws. Manitoba gets a second chance at Saskatchewan in the morning while B.C. strives to avoid mathematical elimination against Alberta.

In the evening, Alberta and Manitoba and Saskatchewan and B.C. meet, and while it is possible for Manitoba to clinch matters today if B.C. should win its two games, neither Alberta or Saskatchewan can clinch more than a first-place tie.

AT THE 19th

With Harry Young

Application forms for the 1960 course of free golf lessons have been forwarded to principals of 18 schools in the Victoria area. The course is open to boys and girls between the years of 12 and 18, and is sponsored by the B.C. Golf Association and the Vancouver Island section of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union.

The schools listed are the six district high schools—Belmont, Esquimalt, Mount Douglas, Mount View, Oak Bay and Victoria—the six junior high schools—Central, Colquitz, Esquimalt, Lansdowne, Oak Bay, and S. J. Willis, and the following private schools—Glenlyon, Norfolk House, St. Anne's, St. Louis, St. Michael's and University School.

Students should get an application from at their school and forward it as soon as possible, and not later than March 30, to the Secretary, Victoria District Golf Committee, Gorge Vale Golf Club, Victoria.

The course will start April 11, and the leading Victoria professionals will be the instructors.

This is the first time, the Victoria District free classes have been open to girls, and their inclusion has been made possible by the ladies sections of the local clubs. They have provided funds to pay for their share of the expenses of the course, with the boys' share being provided as usual by the B.C. Golf Association.

At the conclusion of the lessons, a junior tournament for all participants is to be held at the Gorge Vale Golf Club. Competitions will be for beginners and for more advanced players.

The Hudson's Bay Company for the second year in succession has agreed to sponsor the event and to provide the prizes. Full details of this event will be announced during the progress of the lessons.

GOLF CONUNDRUM — While the rules of golf are made so that every conceivable situation is covered, problems continue to arise either on matter of fact or interpretation.

This incident happened last weekend in Victoria:

In a four-ball match, all four balls were on the green. One of the players marked a ball which was interfering with a line of putt, and instead of lifting it pushed it to one side.

When it came the turn of the player whose ball had been marked, he played the putt from where the ball lay. It was only after the putt had been played and missed that someone realized the ball had not been played from the marked spot.

The player said he did not know his ball had been marked and moved and he claimed the right to play the putt from the correct position. (He did and sank the shot).

Was this correct?

The ball, apparently, was marked by an opponent, and it might be claimed he had no right to do so, or, if he did, that he was responsible for the mistake, thus incurring the penalty for his own side.

If the marking had been done by the player's partner would the penalty have been against the player?

In stroke play what would the procedure have been? Would the player be allowed to replay his putt?

What do you think?

ENTER NOW FOR OPEN—Entries for the Vancouver Island Match Play Championship should be made without delay to the secretary, Victoria District Golf Committee, Gorge Vale Golf Club, Victoria.

The qualifying round will be played at Royal Colwood Golf Club on Sunday, March 28. All payers who are members of Vancouver Island clubs, affiliated with the B.C. Golf Association are eligible.

A meeting of the Victoria District Golf Committee has been called for Wednesday, March 23, at Gorge Vale, to make the draw for the qualifying round.

Also on the agenda is a suggestion that the Victoria district should consider the promotion of a parent and child competition as a follow-up to the annual district golf lessons. The district committee has been asked that if such a competition is instituted it should be for both sexes—mother and son or daughter, or father and son or daughter.

★ ★ ★

COLWOOD TAKES BOTH—Both of the district's gold medals for the winter medals have gone to the Royal Colwood Club.

Laurie Kerr Sunday took the top award with a final round of 71 at Uplands, and a three round aggregate of 218.

This gave him a lead of five strokes over his colleague Bill McColl who had won the first winter medal. He was round in 74 for a 223 aggregate.

Colwood also filled third place through Dr. Roger Ross who had 74 for a total of 225.

FOURSOMES AT OAK BAY — The Challoner-Mitchell foursome competition starts this weekend at the Victoria Golf Club, and members who have not yet made their entry should do so by contacting Laurie Carroll EV 3-6121 by noon today.

A draw will be made for partners, with each side consisting of a low and high handicap player. If a qualifying round is necessary it will be played Saturday. Remainder of the competition is by match play.

B.C. Legion Rink Loses First Game

SUMMERSIDE, P.E.I. (CP)—Harris Matlock's Vulcan, Alta., rink bounced Manitoba from the undefeated ranks in the fourth annual Canadian Legion curling championships here Tuesday night and grabbed a lead in the four-day round-robin bonspiel.

Matlock's rink scored a 9-6 victory while Steve Stratford's Ontario rink was toppling previously undefeated British Columbia 7-6.

The win gave Matlock's rink a 5-0 record. Four other rinks — Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario and British Columbia—were tied with 4-1 records.

Athletics Tie Up Series With Thrilling Cage Win

MONTREAL (UPI) — Alberni Athletics forced a fifth and deciding round in the combined Canadian basketball championships and Olympic trials here Tuesday night by scoring a last-minute 77-72 win over the Tillsonburg Livingstons.

Alberni played their favorite comeback role to the hilt as they came from behind a seven-point halftime deficit and took the lead over their highly-favored opposition with just two minutes to go.

The win was the third in a row for Alberni. They suffered a 60-53 defeat at the hands of the Tillsonburg squad in the first game of the tourney last Saturday night.

AGAIN TONIGHT

The two teams meet again tonight to decide which will form the nucleus of Canada's entry in the Olympic Games at Rome in August. Canadian Amateur Basketball officials have announced that eight to ten players from the winning squad will be named to Canada's representatives in the Rome basketball round.

Another half dozen players will be selected from the other three teams which competed in this tourney to bolster the ranks of the winners.

THRILLER FROM START

Last night's game was a thriller from the start. Alberni raced into an early lead, but after five minutes of play Tillsonburg was in front 14-13. Alberni failed to get ahead again until the final minutes of the game although the score was evened on innumerable occasions.

Tillsonburg appeared confident and strong after taking a 43-36 halftime lead. They were ahead 61-53 with 10 minutes to go and seemed home-free when Ron Bissett, star centre for Alberni, was fouled out with seven minutes remaining.

NEVER STOPPED

The Alberni team never stopped whittling away at the Tillsonburg lead. With three minutes to play Ray Monnott, six-foot-six-inch forward with Tillsonburg who had been murdering Alberni in the rebounds, fouled out.

Tillsonburg still led 70-66 with three minutes to play and with questionable strategy attempted to freeze the ball. In quick succession Dave Williamson, Doug Birnham and Al Birtles managed to break through the Tillsonburg control and score baskets.

Tillsonburg then opened up but couldn't contain the fired-up Athletics.

BIG MAN

Birtles, a 22-year-old sophomore at the University of Seattle, was the big man for Alberni with a 27-point effort. The six foot six inch Vancouver native picked up 17 of his points in the second half.

Johnny Kootnekoff and Williamson tallied 13 apiece while Birnham scored 12.

John (Stretch) McKibbon, 20-year-old six foot seven inch centreman for the Livingstons gave another fine performance scoring 29 points on 12 field goals and five free throws. Playmaker Fred Ingaldson and Monnott scored 13 each for the Tillies while Warren Reynolds scored 10.

Cougars in Third; Lace Spokane 9-2

Victoria Cougars grabbed third place in the Western Hockey League by storm Tuesday night and, providing Calgary lends a helping hand, could clinch the position tonight at Memorial Arena.

Manager-coach Hal Laycoe's Cougars went on a scoring rampage in the second and third periods last night at Spokane to bury the last-place Comets 9-2.

	GP	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
Vancouver	67	41	20	6	215	169	88
Seattle	68	38	26	4	265	212	80
VICTORIA	68	36	28	4	220	185	76
Edmonton	68	35	29	4	235	233	74
Calgary	67	30	35	2	232	219	62
Winnipeg	67	25	39	3	216	245	53
Spokane	67	18	46	3	189	309	39

Last night's scores: VICTORIA 9 at Spokane 2; Seattle 3 at Vancouver 4 (overtime); Edmonton 4 at Calgary 8.
Next games. Tonight: Spokane at VICTORIA; Calgary at Edmonton.

The win also made Laycoe's crew the winningest team in Victoria's 11-year WHL history. It gave Cougars 36 wins this season.

Previous high of 35 wins was set by the league championship team of 1950-51 and the 1955-56 club.

Cougars host Spokane tonight in a return game that could decide third place. It is also "Ladies' Night" with several valuable prizes for attending ladies and also shooting and racing contest between selected members of both teams.

Victoria received some help, although not unexpected, from Calgary last night. The fifth-place Stampeders blasted Edmonton Flyers 8-4 at Calgary.

Cougars and Flyers were tied with identical records prior to the Tuesday games. Flyers will undoubtedly be seeking revenge tonight when they host Stampeders.

An Edmonton loss and a Victoria win would eliminate Flyers. However, the reverse situation would mean third place would be decided on the weekend when both clubs play their final game.

Cougars were an inspired team last night. After being held to a 2-2 tie in the first period, they scored six goals in the second period for a comfortable 8-2 margin, and added a single in the final 20 minutes.

PERSONAL HIGH

Leading the Victoria win was centre Art Jones who scored his 34th and 35th goals of the season, a personal high, and assisted on four other goals.

It gave Jones 76 points in 68 games and a tie for sixth place in league scoring with Marc Boileau of Seattle.

Gordon Fashoway, a linemate of Jones, followed with his 32nd and 33rd goals of the season along with two assists.

Single Victoria goals went to George Ford, his 20th, Gerry Goyer, Don Blackburn, Gordie Haworth and Paul Masnick who also had three assists.

SECOND SEASON

Earl (Ching) Johnson scored both Spokane goals to reach the 30 mark for a second straight season.

When contacted by telephone by the Daily Colonist, coach Laycoe was overjoyed with the performance of his team. "That was one of our best games of the season and I just hope we can play that well tomorrow.

"Everybody played well, especially the Jones-Fashoway-Masnick line. And, Calgary really helped us by beating Edmonton. The rest is up to us."

SPECIAL PRAISE

Laycoe also had special praise for goaltender Marcel Pelletier who, despite the one-sided score, turned back 33 shots.

Game time tonight is 8.30.

Victoria — Goal: Pelletier; defence: Wright, Bionda, Hay, Matthews; forwards: Blackburn, Ford, Haworth, Masnick, Fashoway, Macauley, Jones.

Arnett Rejoins Totems

SEATTLE (AP) — Frank Arnett has been reinstated by Seattle Totems but he will not get back his captaincy of the Western Hockey League team.

Totem coach Keith Allen ordered the suspension Monday because Arnett failed to report for a Sunday game against Victoria Cougars.

The 27-year-old defenceman blamed harrassment by referees for his absenteeism.

Arnett played with the team last night against the Canucks in Vancouver, but Gordy Sinclair was team captain.

Record Entry Ready to Go In Victoria Ladies' Bonspiel

A record entry of 51 rinks, including another record of 27 visiting quartets, will start play in the annual ladies' bonspiel at the Victoria Curling Club Thursday evening.

Barring a three-way tie in the Western Canadian ladies' championship, which ends scheduled play Wednesday morning, bonspiel play will get under way at 5 p.m. Three more draws—at 7.15, 9.30 and 11.45—will follow Thursday with Friday play opening at 8 a.m.

Included in the entry are two Winnipeg rinks, one from Neepawa, Regina, Dauphin, Medicine Hat and two from Seattle. There are also nine Vancouver rinks, three from Chilliwack, Duncan and Nanaimo and one from Port Alberni, in addition to 24 from Victoria.

Play will be in five events—the Eaton and Scurrah primaries, the Hudson's Bay and Evergreen secondaries and a consolation event—with each rink guaranteed a minimum of five games.

Finals are scheduled for Sunday night but the large entry has assured that there will a rather strenuous grind ahead for any rink staying alive too long in more than one event.

Draws were made up last night until the 8 a.m. draw Friday. The other Friday draws were impossible to fill until results of early games on Thursday are known.

Labatts Get Bionda, Price Looks Stiff

By LARRY ROSE

Nanaimo Labatts will almost certainly have perennial scoring champion Jack Bionda in tow for the approaching Inter-City Lacrosse League season.

But, Labatts will have to pay a stiff price for the services of the best player in the game.

Money-wise, most of that price will be paid in Bionda's salary — also the best in the game.

However, Bionda's transfer from Mann Cup champion New Westminster O'Keefes will also cost Nanaimo one of its veteran players in the person of stormy Don Ashbee.

"WE'RE FINISHED"

Bionda has been all but written out of New Westminster's 1960 plans. "We're finished with him," said talkative general-manager Harry McKnight.

McKnight was quick to add that before he would sign the transfer, Nanaimo must agree to transfer Ashbee to O'Keefes.

Ashbee, suspended last season for striking a referee, has already received an offer from O'Keefes and indicated he will apply for the transfer.

ASHBEE IS ONE

It is reported that several Nanaimo players feel Bionda's outsized salary will leave them in a bad bargaining position. Ashbee is one.

Former playing-coach of Nanaimo, Ashbee has been involved in a running feud with Bionda for several seasons. That could be another reason for Ashbee requesting a transfer.

Bionda has notified New Westminster that he is now in hotel partnership at Nanaimo. Red MacMillan, coach of Labatts, makes it a friendly business relationship.

Added McKnight, "Our's is not a one-man team despite what many people say. I guess we'll have our chance to prove it this summer."

REBOUNDS . . . Both Vancouver and New Westminster have begun practice. Ron Delmonico, Keith Johnston, Harry Preston and Stan Joseph are fighting for the goaltending position at Vancouver. Joseph has been at New Westminster the past two seasons. . . . Defenceman Jack Byford, a standout each season, is back in the New Westminster fold after retirement talk. . . . New Westminster has invited seven of last year's junior Canadian finalists Salmonbellies to training camp. . . . Victoria lacrosse news has been quiet thus far.

Hawks Make NHL Playoffs; Red Wings Not So Certain

Chicago Black Hawks assured themselves of a National Hockey League playoff position Tuesday night, leaving Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins to decide the final berth.

Centre Bill Hay scored two goals last night and strengthened his rookie-of-the-year chances in leading Chicago to a 3-2 win over Detroit.

Chicago can now finish no worse than fourth. A single Detroit loss or Chicago win will nail down third place for the Black Hawks.

Despite losing last night on their home ice, Red Wings are shaky favorites to grab the fourth Stanley Cup playoff position.

Detroit holds a four-point edge over fifth-place Bruins who play tonight at New York.

	GP	W	L	T	F	A	Pts.
Montreal	67	39	16	12	247	168	90
Toronto	67	32	26	9	189	191	73
Chicago	68	28	28	12	186	174	68
Detroit	68	25	28	15	178	191	65
Boston	67	27	33	7	211	229	61
New York	67	16	36	15	179	237	47

Last night's score: Chicago 3 at Detroit 2.
Next game, Tonight: Boston at New York.

Boston has to win its three remaining games while Detroit loses its two if Bruins are to reach the playoffs on a points margin. However, tie games could complicate things and if the clubs finish with the same amount of points, Boston would have more victories to qualify.

Hay was the big gun for Chicago last night, both of his goals bringing Hawks even after Detroit had forged ahead through goals by Gordie Howe and Norm Ullman.

Hay's second goal came at 7.22 of the third period to offset Ullman's effort five minutes earlier.

Ron Murphy scored the winner for Chicago with less than five minutes remaining.

For Detroit, Howe's goal was his first in eight games and his 28th of the season. But, Howe was in the penalty box when Chicago scored its first goal.

Bobby Hull of Chicago had an assist to tie Bronco Horvath of Boston for the scoring lead with 79 points.

FIRST PERIOD
1. Detroit, Howe (Godfrey) 11.47.
Penalty—Mikita 35.

Grapefruit League Roundup

New 'Babe Ruth' Born

Frank Howard, a mammoth six foot, seven inch 240-pound first baseman, continues to stir up excitement with Los Angeles Dodgers as the latest major league training camp sensation.

Unlike many players who have blossomed in the spring before tailing off when the season opens, Howard could easily become baseball's newest drawing card.

Howard received $108,000 for signing with Los Angeles in 1958 and is getting a long look this season after two great seasons in the minors and a brief trial last season with the Dodgers.

Consensus among Dodger officials at the club's Vero Beach, Calif., training site seems to be that Howard may need another year of seasoning.

But, the officials are quick to add, Howard could stick this season. In two years in the minors Howard has hit 80 home runs and driven in 245 runs.

* * *

"I've got the best team in baseball and it's going to win another world championship. We've got the other seven American League teams by the tail," said manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees.

Stengel was answering critics who were asking if the Yankees would continue to slip as they did last season. "If they do what they have been doing this spring," growled Stengel, "they'll give the other clubs a lot of trouble."

* * *

Los Angeles Dodgers announced that a deal is pending for sale of their Montreal farm club, which could lead to its entry into the forming Continental League.

Prospective purchaser of Montreal is a syndicate headed by Dwight Davis of New York. Sale of the International League team could be announced within 48 hours.

Victoria Junior Girls Annex Island Crown

Victoria owns the Vancouver Island junior women's basketball championship today after edging a surprisingly-strong Brentwood team 37-35 Tuesday night in a sudden-death final.

Carol Casilio, most valuable high school player on Vancouver Island, scored the winning points with less than a minute remaining last night to lead Victoria to the win.

The sudden-death game was played at Esquimalt after the teams fought to a tie in a two-game, total-point series earlier this month.

Sylvia Wedman was the top Victoria scorer with 13 points last night while Miss Casilio added 12. Harriet Forsberg had 14 for Brentwood.

Brentwood—Daphne Slugget 3, Doreen Bickford 10, Jessie Picard, Gail Logan 8, Harriet Forsberg 14, Ann Knott, Georgina Hughes, Irene Way. Total 35.
Victoria Juniors—Carol Casilio 12, Gail Archibald 3, Georgina Noels 5, Arlene Pearce 2, Shirley Crowe 1, Sylvia Wedman 13, Joan Winterburn, Avis Murrant. Total 37.

Fourth Test Ends in Draw

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (Reuters)—The fourth cricket test match between England and the West Indies ended in a draw Tuesday.

England now leads 1-0 with three matches drawn in the five-match test series. The final test begins at Trinidad March 26.

Centuries for England by Tex Dexter and Raman Subba Row, whose third wicket stand of 148 ensured England would get a draw after earlier domination by West Indies, were the highlights of a dull final day's play.

Final scores were: England 295 and 334 for eight, West Indies 402 for eight declared.

Dexter scored 110—his second century of the test series and his third of the tour. Sugga Row, brought into play in his first test of the tour because of the absence of injured captain Peter May, hit an even 100—his first century in test cricket.

Mother's Error Took Three Lives

OTTAWA (CP)—A mother and her two young children died Tuesday night in flames that erupted when gasoline was poured on a small wood-burning heater to get it started.

Investigators determined the mother applied the gasoline, kept in the upstairs living quarters to clean paint brushes.

Victims were Mrs. Ernest Larose, 27; her seven-months old son, Eric, and her four-year-old daughter, Joanne.

The father, lying down in another room, fled before realizing his family had not escaped. When he realized they were still inside, he tried to re-enter the house and was severely burned.

Swearing Costs Enough; No Boost, Peers Decide

LONDON (AP) — Peers of the realm decided Monday that swearing costs enough already and should not be made more expensive.

The House of Lords rejected a bill designed to bring fines for "uttering oaths" in line with the current value of things.

Lord Swathling, the bill's sponsor, said the Profane Oaths Act of 1745 is still on the statutes. It provides swearing penalties ranging from "one shilling for a laborer, common soldier or sailor, to two shillings for a gentleman and five shillings for any offender above that degree."

Lord Swathling recommended a standard fine of £10. But the House threw out his bill.

"Finally I teamed with two other guys to form a comedy act called "The Bishop Brothers Trio." This is actually how I got my name.

"My real name is Gottlieb and theirs are Reisman and Spector. We took the name Bishop because a kid in the neighborhood promised to drive us to auditions if we'd use his name. So we did and it brought us luck!"

Probe Asked In Barn Fire At Brentwood

Vancouver fire marshal's office has been asked to investigate a fire which levelled a barn at Brentwood auto court 7215 West Saanich Road early yesterday morning causing some $1,700 damage.

The barn was used for storing hay and contained a small tractor.

A spokesman for Central Saanich volunteer fire department said the blaze must have been well under way before the alarm was turned in.

The fire was first noticed and the alarm turned in around 4.45 a.m. by Mrs. Ruth Rowles, wife of the Central Saanich fire chief.

Don't Rush the Job

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

In sowing seeds in an outdoor plot, I could never see this business of tearing a corner off the seed packet and shaking it over the seed furrow. In this way, you can't see the seeds until they actually fall to the ground and it is difficult to regulate the rate so as to achieve the desired thin sowing.

Instead, I work away at the seed envelope until I have succeeded in lifting one of the gummed-down flaps. This isn't too difficult, for I don't think the glue they use on seed packets is very good. Then, with the packet opened and the flap extended, I crease the flap in the middle, which makes a little trough down which the seeds can roll, in full sight, on their way to the ground.

The packet of seeds is held above the seed furrow almost horizontally, sloping just slightly down at the opened end. I hold the envelope by its side edges between thumb and second finger and tap it gently with the first finger.

While the tapping continues, the seeds move slowly down the little fold or trough in the flap, falling to the ground one by one. By varying the speed with which the packet is moved along the row, the rate of seeding can be controlled easily.

I use this method with all small seeds like lettuce, radish, carrots, etc. With very small seeds, like petunias, begonias and similar dust-like seeds, mix a little fine, dry sand with the seeds in order to make visible the seeded area and to ensure thin seedling.

Large seeds such as peas, beans, corn, squash and the like are best sown one at a time and by hand. Bean seeds are planted with the "eye" down, while squash, marrow, pumpkin, melon and cucumber seeds are best put into the ground point downward.

I think it pays to wet down the seed furrow before sowing, using a pail of water and a cup or a watering can with the "rose" taken off so a thin, solid stream of water can be poured along the furrow before the seeds go in. Better still, add a little soluble fertilizer to the water at the rate of one tablespoonful per gallon, for this will get the baby plants off to an excellent start. Use any of the high-test, water-soluble fertilizers such as Liqui-Life, Green Cross Lawn Green, Old Gardener, Hyponex, Rapid-Gro, etc. Liquid fish fertilizer may be used at the same dilution.

At this time of the year, when a seed is placed in the outdoor soil, it is a race to see whether that seed will sprout before it rots or rots before it sprouts. The weather is really the controlling factor—cold, wet weather favors rotting—but there are one of two things you can do to help your seeds resist the onslaught of the rot organisms.

I have become a great believer in the use of seed dressings to disinfect the seed and to leave a coating on the skin of the seed to protect it from rot fungi in the soil.

For quite a few years I used Arasan, always putting a pinch of this pink powder in the seed packet and shaking it violently before sowing. Last year, I couldn't find any Arasan on the dealer's shelves—probably because it is a violently poisonous mercuric compound—so I used Spergon instead, and with equally satisfactory results.

Whenever seeds of the pea or bean families are sown in ground where legumes have not been grown before, it is a wise precaution to shake up the seeds with a little Nitro-Nox or similar inoculant. Peas, sweet peas, beans and broad beans all need the help of certain bacteria which extract plant food from the air and pass it to the plants. This treatment inoculates the seeds with the beneficial bacteria, just in case there aren't any in that particular patch of soil.

If you have any trouble finding an inoculant powder for your pea and bean seeds, some chopped-up roots of clover or alfalfa scattered in the seed furrows would serve the same purpose.

Deadly Nerve Gas — Human Guinea Pig

'Walk In, Pick Up the Bodies'

VANCOUVER, B.C. (UPI)—An unemployed Royal Air Force veteran who claims he served as a human guinea pig in a nerve gas experiment in Britain said yesterday he suffered severe headaches and distortion of eyesight immediately after the tests.

G. Bryce Kelman, 26, of Vancouver, said he was one of 12 to undergo experiments with nerve gas from Sept. 25, 1955, to Oct. 1, 1955, at Porton, near Salisbury, England.

Kelman—a native of Hull, Yorkshire, who came to Canada from England three years ago — related his experiences in the top-secret experiments in a special interview.

He said the gas is a terrifying substance which cannot be seen, smelled nor felt, but which would kill a human within 10 to 12 minutes of exposure to its fumes.

The interview followed confirmation by the British War Office in London that nerve gases are being tested on human volunteers.

The war office spokesman, however, refused to disclose any details of the experiments.

Kelman's RAF certificate of service confirmed the dates of the experiments, and also showed that he was a ground engineer at the Christmas Island hydrogen bomb tests conducted by Great Britain in the South Pacific in 1957.

He said authorities were very concerned with the nerve gas because up to the time he underwent the tests no one had displayed any sign of recognizing the gas when exposed to it.

Kelman said the experiment started with blood tests and physical examinations, then saw the volunteers exposed to smog, an aldehyde and finally the nerve gas.

Thorough medical examinations were conducted on the men before and after each of the tests, said Kelman. He revealed that exposure to the smog reduced the efficiency of his lungs by 40 per cent, the aldehyde by 50 per cent and the nerve gas by 75 per cent.

"We underwent several practice runs before being subjected to the gas. We had to go through two airlocks before entering the gas chamber. Once inside, we were ordered to take off our gas masks and expose ourselves to the nerve gas for exactly 60 seconds. Then we were led through the two airlocks again to be given medical examinations.

★ ★ ★

"The horrifying thing about the gas was that no one could see it, smell it or feel it. But once out in the fresh air our chests tightened up, we got severe headaches and our eyes became dilated.

Kelman claimed that one man died shortly after undergoing the experiment in 1954, but no one was ever certain that it had a connection with the nerve gas.

"I saw a rabbit given the gas in a glass laboratory cage, and it was unconscious in 30 seconds and dead within two minutes," he said. "We were told that a human would be unconscious after being exposed to it for five minutes, and dead within 10 to 12 minutes."

★ ★ ★

He said the American doctor had said the experiments had been conducted in the United States, but that they were stopped when they proved too dangerous.

Kelman was in the RAF for three years, and said the nerve gas experiments convinced him that the gas poses more of a threat than bombs because it could be spread over cities and kill the population without damaging the property.

"There'd be no mess," said Kelman. "The enemy would just have to wait about one hour, then walk in and clean up the bodies."

Hearts, Kidneys All Replaceable Within 10 Years?

Almost within man's grasp is an amazing control of his life and health. The coming biological revolution is explored in this second article in a series on incredible promises of science for the future.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP) — Soon, the man's sick heart will halt. So surgeons take it out, and replace it with the healthy heart of a young man killed by an automobile.

A woman dying of blood poisoning receives a healthy kidney from a kidney bank. A boy gets a new hand or leg for the one he lost.

Such miracles may come in five to 10 years, by the most optimistic estimates; longer, in the view of other experts. Research is suggesting possible means of repealing nature's law against transplants of human tissues.

★ ★ ★

The dream foresees a steady supply of spare human organs taken from accident victims, or persons whose fatal diseases did not impair some organs needed by other persons.

Grafts of bone, blood vessels, and blood transfusions, of course, are possible today.

But the bones and blood vessels apparently serve only as scaffolds for new growth of your own bone or artery tissue. And you soon replace all the borrowed blood cells.

★ ★ ★

But you will deliberately, unwillingly destroy the skin, kidney or heart borrowed from someone, unless it is from your identical twin.

You apparently create antibodies against a substance—called an antigen—in the "foreign" tissue.

Some few successes are raising hopes this can be done.

Just a year ago, a young man poisoned by his diseased kidneys had perhaps only one more week to live.

★ ★ ★

Now he's back in college, living on a healthy kidney borrowed from his brother, a twin but not an identical twin. His own sick kidneys were removed.

Americans Wage War on B.C. Game Fish, Chambers Believe

Have American yachtsmen adopted the sea and air tactics of the Second World War's Pacific campaign for their sport fishing forays into B.C. waters?

The fisheries committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island seems to think so.

In a resolution scheduled to go before the ACCVI's annual meeting at Port Alberni later this week the committee points out that U.S. yachts are acting as "mother ships" to fleets of outboards and amphibious planes, and also as floating canneries to process the catches of their guests and clients.

"The practice of one large yacht anchored in a strategic location and used as a depot canning shop and accommodation for relays of visitors arriving by aircraft should be stopped," the resolution states.

"It is recommended that vessels for hire or charter should be limited to two power tenders carried aboard. . . ."

The resolution states that some U.S. charter boats have been observed in B.C. waters carrying as many as eight outboard tenders.

"Amphibious planes are used to bring relays of guests to the anchored yachts, there, they fly the guests into interior lakes and other areas where large quantities of trout are caught, brought out and canned aboard," the submission continues.

"The canning of salmon and steelhead is carried on at the same time aboard these yachts.

"This practice is mainly carried out by United States yachts."

B.C. Electric Polite, Firm

No Horse-Trading On Thetis Swap

Edgelow, Mooney Tangle

The B.C. Electric yesterday appeared ready to reject, politely but firmly, an attempt by city representatives to do some "horse-trading" over a Thetis Lake power-line route.

"We have made a firm offer to city council, and we hope it will be carefully studied in the terms in which it was made," a company spokesman said. "The offer was developed as an answer to a rather complex problem, and we feel it is extremely fair—generous—and we would appreciate it being considered in that light."

GIVE CITY $5,200

He referred to the company's offer to give the city $5,200 and 250 acres around and including Durrance Lake in return for 104 acres along the northeastern edge of the city's Thetis Lake property.

City council public works and parks committee met jointly yesterday to consider this offer, and decided:

● By a 3-2 vote, that the Thetis Lake watershed area should be kept intact: in other words, that none of it should be sold outright.

● That Aldermen Austin Curtis and M. H. Mooney should negotiate with B.C. Electric to determine the best terms possible, using as a "basis" a report from a committee of city officials recommending that the company be given an easement for the $5,200 and Durrance Lake, but that the city retain title.

Ald. M. H. Mooney, who earlier had declared, "As far as I'm concerned, I'm a horse-trader," summed it up: "We are just to see the best possible terms we can get."

UNDERGROUND

At one point in the discussion, after saying he understood it would cost the B.C. Electric $150,000 extra to take the power line around the Thetis Lake property, he proposed that as one of the terms of securing an easement the company should be required to lay the power-line underground.

The suggestion led to a brief tilt when Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said that "no sane thinking man could possibly go along with what Ald. Mooney suggests."

NOT SANE?

"What do you mean?" Ald. Mooney demanded. "You mean I'm not a sane man? Are you telling us for them what they're going to do?"

"It's ridiculous!" said Ald. Edgelow.

"It's not ridiculous!"

"I call for order," said Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean.

The company spokesman said later that cost of placing the lines underground through the Thetis Lake property would be around $300,000.

TITLE TO LAND

He also said the company felt it was meeting the request of city council in "removing the line from the park" by offering Durrance Lake and $5,200 for title to the land for the power-line.

"This was the answer to objections to having a line in a park," he said. "We felt in owning the land, through making a generous trade, that problem would be solved."

In the committee debate, Aldermen Edgelow and Elmer McEwen voted against calling for the Thetis Lake property to be kept intact, and Aldermen Mooney, Mrs. Lily Wilson and Dr. McLean for it.

Ald. Wilson was against negotiating with the company over an easement.

"I'm not in favor of an easement at all," she said.

No, Says Mayor

Airport Scheme Scouted

Mayor Percy Scurrah gave short shrift yesterday to the suggestion of an airline official that Victoria should give more serious consideration to local control and operation of Patricia Bay airport.

W. J. Dalby, western sales manager of Trans-Canada Air Lines, made the suggestion in a panel discussion.

"I would take a very dim view of it," Mayor Scurrah said yesterday. "I want no part of control of the airport. We have plenty of troubles of our own without adding the airport to it.

"To my mind, it's not a city of Victoria responsibility. Why should we take it on for the benefit not just of our citizens, but of a greater number from outside the city?"

City Hospital Sets Meeting

Gorge Road Hospital Society will hold its annual meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 23, in the main solarium of the hospital at 63 Gorge Road. Guest speaker will be Dr. D. M. Whitlaw, associate professor of medicine at UBC, who will talk on the "High cost of cheap medical care."

B.C. Telephone Plan

CCF Up in Arms Over Phone Deal

The B.C. Telephone Company is preparing to purchase control of the North-West Telephone Company, it was disclosed in the legislature yesterday.

A bill was introduced to amend the North-West Telephone Company's Act, 1929, to pave the way for the transaction, and it brought the CCF opposition down with both feet.

"It would put control of the North-West Telephone Co. under the federal board of transport commissioners, instead of under the Public Utilities Commission," Mr. Strachan warned.

He said the people of B.C. have no say or jurisdiction over the type of telephone service they get.

He told of the interlocking ownerships of telephone companies and said control of B.C. Telephone Company ends up in New York City. "The business and domestic life of British Columbians is being controlled by a foreign organization," he complained. He said the new move would be an "encroachment on the autonomy of the people of B.C."

He claimed the board of transport commissioners really exercises very little control over the B.C. Telephone Company.

"Whether or not the bill before the House is approved, the result which the phone company seeks might have been otherwise obtained," Attorney-General Bonner explained. "It is a credit to the phone company that they came before the House . . . The company has acted in candor."

He said the real complaint is the remoteness of the board of transport commissioners. He said it is his intention to ask that in matters pertaining to this province, that the board of transport commissioners convene in B.C.

The telephone bill passed second reading.

Youngsters Set Ruins Afire Again

City firemen returned yesterday afternoon to the ruins of the Crowe, Gorinason Lumber Co. plant on Government, to extinguish a small fire in a rear-area shed.

The blaze was quickly extinguished, doing scant damage to a structure already scorched in the huge fire two weeks ago.

Fire Chief James Bayliss said yesterday's fire was set, probably by irresponsible youngsters.

Firemen keeping an eye on the burned-out buildings, the chief said, have been plagued by youngsters prowling through the ruins.

As a result, a company spokesman announced yesterday, a watchman for the old plant would be hired.

Aldermen Start Work On City Budget Friday

Aldermanic work on 1960 budget estimates will begin Friday at city hall. Parks committee will lead the way, starting to consider parks, health and welfare estimates after a regular meeting Friday morning. Finance and public works committees are tentatively scheduled to start work on estimates Monday and Thursday, respectively.

Davis Murder Trial

Bloodstains in Home Were Never Analyzed

Former Detective On Stand

Bloodstains scattered through the Crescent Road home in which William A. Davis met his death more than 12 years ago were never analyzed, a former city detective told an Assize Court jury yesterday.

Testimony of ex-detective Percy Richards came towards the close of the first day in the trial of Edith Etheline (Ivy) Davis on a charge of murdering her car-dealer husband in their home on Oct. 7, 1947.

ONLY 13 MINUTES

On Monday a sanity hearing jury deliberated only 13 minutes to decide that Mrs. Davis, who for more than 12 years has been an inmate of Essondale Mental Hospital, was fit to stand trial.

Mr. Richards, who retired from the city police force in 1955, said under cross-examination by defence counsel Henry Castillou Jr. that bloodstains in the 1852 Crescent Road home were not subjected to analysis.

"It could have been ketchup?" asked counsel.

"It could have been," replied Richards.

SLOPPY WORK

"Isn't this a most sloppy piece of detective work?" Mr. Castillou asked.

"I couldn't say that," the former detective answered.

Referring to bloodstains on a knife-sharpener found in the kitchen of the Davis home, defence counsel asked if they could not have come from the deceased, the accused, "or a detective?"

"It wasn't a detective — I was the only detective there," said the ex-policeman.

FOUND IN HOUSE

He said a photographer at the scene did not photograph a bloodstained knife said to have been found in the house.

Earlier, another former member of the city police force, ex-constable Rodney McNeil, said a picture of the knife should have been taken. (The knife is among a number of exhibits in the Davis case which have vanished from court registry storage.)

FOUND ON TABLE

Witnesses yesterday described the knife as being 13 to 14 inches long overall, and said it was found on a telephone table in the hall of the Davis home some distance from where Mr. Davis was found sprawled on the living room floor and Mrs. Davis was slumped in a chair.

Edward Davis, son of the deceased, said he found his father, apparently dead, with his throat cut.

The accused whom he said he knew as "Ivy Davis," was slouched in a chair a few feet away and "seemed to be still alive," her throat also cut and her wrists slashed.

TOLD ABOUT IT

He said his father was separated from his mother and, under cross-examination, said he had never seen a Washington state marriage licence bearing the names of the accused woman and his father, but had been told about it.

The trial is scheduled to resume at 10.30 a.m. today before Mr. Justice D. R. Verchere.

Work on Reservoir Advances Despite Weather

Work is progressing "remarkably well considering the weather" according to water board official on 6,000,000-gallon reservoir being built on Mount Tolmie to ensure water pressure in northeastern part of Greater Victoria. Being constructed at total cost of about $600,000, reservoir is scheduled to be finished by end of year.—(Colonist photo.)

Marine Biology, Astrophysics

World-Famous Future Forecast for University

Victoria University in the future could provide world-ranking advanced studies in the fields of marine biology and astrophysics, Prof. Tony Emery told Oak Bay High School PTA last night.

But for the next few years, he said, Victoria University will continue to expand its present courses in liberal arts and pure science in order to make them available to a growing number of students.

AT NO TIME

At no time did Victoria University intend to provide costly facilities for professional training here in competition with UBC, said Mr. Emery.

He said the location of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here lends itself to advanced studies in this field and in the field of marine biology "the experts tell me the waters around Victoria have the heaviest concentration of marine life anywhere in the world."

Mr. Emery told parents "if we can't give your child the courses he wants to take—it won't be for want of trying. But we have to husband what resources we have available over the next few years."

Honors courses will remain a problem for the next year or two, Mr. Emery said, largely because there was a great shortage of books required for specialized study.

VERY MANY MORE

He said the new library which is part of the objective of the present fund drive will require "very many more" than its present 60,000 volumes. The library envisaged would eventually cost an estimated $50,000 a year compared with the present operating budget of $17,000 to $18,000.

Student council president John Anderson said the student body itself five years from now will have contributed a total of close to $90,000 towards the fund. The money earmarked for the fund will come out of student contributions to the Alma Mater society.

Full Prepaid Plans Doctors' Answer To State Medicine

Canadian doctors are in favor of maximum use of prepaid medical plans rather than socialized medicine, Dr. J. F. Tysoe, last year's president of the B.C. Medical Association, said last night.

Many countries have adopted socialized medicine and all but Australia's plan, have failed because the patients using the service most are the ones who support it the least financially, he told members of the Kiwanis Club of Victoria North.

AWARE OF FACT

The Australian plan, he said, requires a patient to pay a small percentage of the medical cost, making him aware of the fact he is using the service.

He pointed to the dismal failure of socialized medicine in Britain where doctors are "caught in a squeeze" by having to give more and more services for a fixed return. Result is inadequate attention to individual patients.

NOT LIKELY

He said doctors in Canada "wholly subscribe to the sharing of medical costs and to prepaid schemes," and if these plans can be expanded to cover most Canadians, "we are not likely to encounter full socialization of medicine."

One of the first steps toward increasing the number of persons eligible for prepaid plans will be finding a workable prepayment plan for persons over 65 with low incomes.

"We hope that within the next year we will come up with some answer," Dr. Tysoe said.

Pat Bay

Four-Lane Road Chamber's Plan

Sidney-North Saanich Chamber of Commerce wants a four-lane Patricia Bay Highway.

The chamber voted last night to send its request to Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi.

A wider highway would be required to cope with anticipated heavy traffic from B.C. mainland and Washington State ferries and the Patricia Bay Airport, it was stated.

Several chamber members pointed out the highway can get jammed, even now, with only Sunday traffic.

Philip Clark Wins Award

A Hudson's Bay Company service award scholarship, offered to final-year students at Victoria University, has been won by Philip L. Clark, son of Mrs. S. E. Clark of Calgary.

The award is worth $300 plus a summer job and is based on academic standing, ability, aptitude and personal qualities.

Roger Hollick, 494 Island Highway, has had his service award renewed for the second year in succession, which means he has an assured summer job this year.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann: Please don't bawl me out. I know what I did wrong. Just tell me what to do about it now.

I went with a fellow I was wild about. I was only 15 and he was 19. He was my first date. I didn't know much about sex when I met him, but after a few dates I knew quite a bit.

He told me he loved me and wanted to marry me someday. Before I knew it he talked me into proving my love for him. Three months later he dropped me like a hot coal. I was heartbroken, in fact I was sick in bed for three days. I told my mother it was the flu, but I knew better.

Now a wonderful fellow has shown some interest in me and I'd give my right eye to go out with him. He told me he has considered dating me for several weeks, but he's heard such rough stories he'd have a hard time thinking of me as "his girl."

How can a girl keep a rat from ruining her reputation for all time?—DUMB BUNNY.

Dear Bunny: Don't put all the blame on the rat. He didn't knock you out of a tree and drag you off.

Of course he's a crumb but there's nothing you can do to close his mouth. Your only hope is to demonstrate to the new friend that you're no push-over. Then he may give less credence to the gossip. Fighting a bad past is difficult, but eventually some nice guy will come along and accept you for what you are.

Stick-in-the-Mud

Dear Ann Landers: Why are you such a stick-in-the-mud? You must get thousands of letters from people who are lonesome. You could do a lot of people a big favor by putting them in touch with each other.

A great many respectable people are unable to travel and make nice contacts. And then there are the ones who have lovely character and pleasant personalities, but they're just shy.

I think you are shirking your responsibility when you turn your back on lonesome people. You could help them so easily—if you only would. —AGIN ANN LANDERS.

★ ★ ★

Dear Agin: I beat my brains out to help people through the newspapers and via personal letters, and that's the end of the line, Buster.

Under no circumstances would I play match maker for people who write. Many a psychotic can compose a perfectly charming letter.

The lonesome people in this world are many—and I feel sorry for them, but they'll have to find each other with no help from me.

Drinks His Bourbon

Dear Ann: We have a cleaning lady who has worked for us for several years. She is an alcoholic. I am not interested in curing her. I believe this is her own business. But how can I stop her from drinking half a quart of my husband's good bourbon and then filling the bottle up with water?

I never leave her alone in the house and I can't figure out how she gets the liquor down so fast—but it never fails. I can't follow her around every minute.—STUMPED.

★ ★ ★

P.S. — She is a marvellous cleaner and I refuse to give her up.

★ ★ ★

Dear Stumped: If there is no lock on the liquor cabinet it would be worth the investment.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

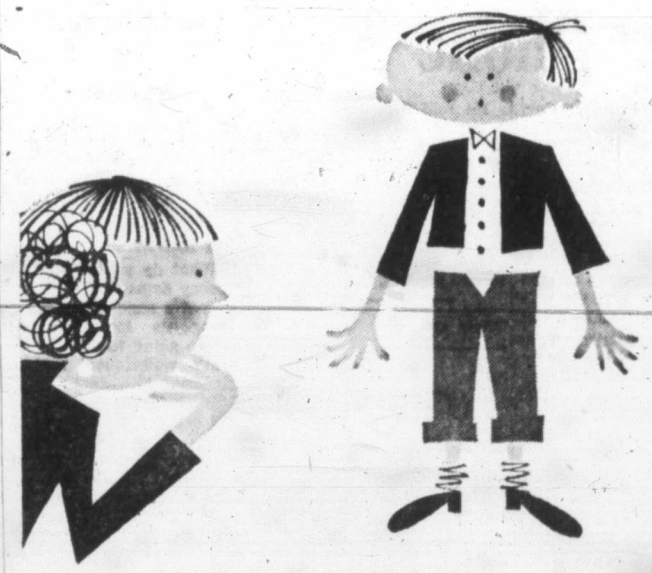

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Tips for Parents

Child Quick to Detect Bluster

By HELEN R. HEWSON

Should elementary school pupils be given homework? Should their parents help them with the homework? These two questions are seldom answered by a simple "yes" or "no." They usually stir up a lively argument among parents and teachers.

Some departments of education recommend or suggest that children below Grade VI should not be given regular home assignments. In some areas Grade VII pupils have a half hour and Grade VIII one hour of homework two or three times a week.

REVIEW

The homework is not the old "so many problems on page so-and-so." It is the review type or looking up information in encyclopedia and other reference books as background material for more intensive classroom work.

Many parents and teachers believe that carefully-selected home assignments, well done, contribute much to the child's progress in school and to his confidence in his own ability to plan and carry out his study tasks.

PARENT HELP

Should parents help the child with his homework?

A teacher with many years' experience in a large city school believes there are many answers to this question. It depends upon the parent's familiarity with the subject matter, his ability to explain what he knows, and his relationship with his child.

If the child is not familiar with the subject matter, it is better to say "I don't know." Children are quick to detect bluster and pretence. They usually respect honesty.

MORE HARM

The ability to explain, to teach, is by no means universal. Parents who have difficulty making themselves understood sometimes do the work themselves as the easiest way out of the dilemma.

This kind of help denies the child the opportunity to become more proficient in the subject.

IMPATIENCE

Some parents become impatient because children do not understand as quickly and as completely as they think they should. The parents scold and nag.

If helping the child leads to unpleasant emotional situations, the help should not be continued.

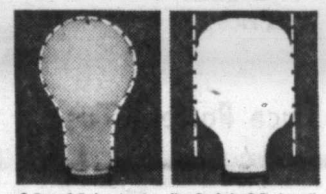

Help should be exactly what the word means, assistance. And it should be the kind of help that helps the child to become more skilful in helping himself.

What's Cooking!

Liver, Heart, Kidney All Highly Nutritious

By LOUISE MOORE

The organs, heart, liver, kidney and tongue, if treated with imagination and ingenuity in the preparation, can be lifted from a minor role to a symphony of flavor and good eating.

Liver is one of our most nutritious meats—a real blood builder—and should be served at least once a week.

CALF LIVER

Cook 2 slices of bacon per each serving until crisp. Drain on paper towelling and keep hot. Allow 1 or 2 slices of liver per serving depending on size.

Season slices with salt, pepper and sprinkle with flour shaking off any surplus. Pour from pan all but 3 tablespoons of the bacon fat and in it brown the slices of liver quickly—about 2 minutes each side. Remember that overcooking toughens liver.

DISCARD FAT

Remove liver to hot platter. Discard fat from pan but do not wash the pan. Add to it ½ tblsp. butter for each slice of liver. Cook butter until a nutty brown. Sprinkle liver with a few drops lemon juice and pour the browned butter over it.

Serve with a sprinkling of finely chopped parsley and garnish platter with the crisp bacon.

PORK LIVER

For each serving allow 2 thin slices of pork liver, 2 tsp. butter and ½ onion. Melt the butter in frying pan, add the onions sliced, and cook slowly until a golden brown. Remove onions to a warming oven.

Season slices of pork liver with salt, pepper and dust with flour — just lightly. Heat enough pork fat in another frying pan to just cover bottom of pan generously and when hot, sautee the liver slices over high heat until browned—about 2 minutes on each side. Remove liver to serving dish.

ADD ONIONS

Pour off fat from pan, add the cooked onions and 2 tsp. vinegar for each serving. Bring to boil and pour over the liver. Sprinkle with chopped parsley.

The flavor of pork liver is sometimes made more delicate by soaking the slices in milk for an hour or two. Then drain and be sure to dry each slice thoroughly before dusting with the flour.

TONGUE

Scrub and wash in several waters 1 fresh beef tongue. Put in kettle, cover with water, add a piece of bay leaf and a slice of onion and bring to boil. Then simmer gently until tender—about 3 hours. When fork tender skin and remove root ends and gristle. Put into a baking dish and pour this mixture over the tongue.

TOMATO SAUCE

Combine 1 can tomatoes (2½ cups), 1 sliced onion, 1½ cups mild vinegar, 1 cup stock from tongue, ½ cup sugar, 3 or 4 tblsp. butter, ¼ tsp. each cloves and allspice and 1 tsp. salt.

Pour over tongue and bake in moderate oven (325 F.) for 2½ hours when the mixture will be reduced and thickened. Serve sliced with baked potatoes and a green vegetable.

VEAL KIDNEYS

For each serving cut a veal kidney in slices. Dip slices in flour and brown slowly in hot butter on both sides. Sautee thin croutons of French bread in butter and place the kidneys on them.

To juices in pan, add several tblsp. port, salt, pepper and finely minced parsley. Heat thoroughly, stirring and pour over the kidneys.

VEAL HEARTS

Wash and cut out veins, arteries and any fat. Boil the hearts gently in water to cover with seasonings of celery leaves, parsley, salt and pepper and a slice of onion until hearts are tender. Drain reserving the broth.

Make up 3 cups stuffing as for poultry seasoned with a little sage or poultry seasonings. Put hearts in greased loaf pan and place stuffing in and around the hearts.

Bake 30 minutes in moderate oven (375 F.). Serve with gravy made from broth in pan, mashed potatoes, green cabbage and sliced tomatoes on lettuce with French dressing. These amounts are for 2 veal hearts.

I didn't believe it possible... new Borden's instant whipped potatoes are really instant—truly potato

I discovered Borden's Instant Whipped Potatoes one very important evening. Tom was bringing a client home... when—

Oh no! I'd forgotten potatoes. I had decided on roast beef, peas, carrots—but without potatoes, it just wouldn't be right.

With five minutes to go, I grabbed Borden's Instant Whipped Potatoes, and put water on to boil. With Borden's all you do is add ½ cup of milk and ½ teaspoon salt to 1½ cups boiling water. Remove from heat, stir in the potatoes and 2 tablespoons of butter. Four minutes—and all at once... I had the creamiest, smoothest whipped potatoes. I tasted them — unbelievable! I was tasting real whipped potatoes...

ready with no peeling, scraping, removing eyes, cooking or mashing. The dinner was a success, mainly because I had time to relax before Tom arrived. Now I always serve Borden's Instant Whipped Potatoes. You will, too, once you experience the extra hours of freedom Borden's gives you every week ... and the truly delicious whipped potatoes every time.

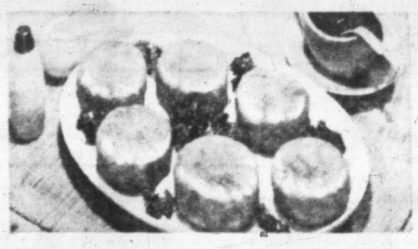

Borden's amazing Steam-Cooking Process leaves potato cells unbroken. They taste just like real potatoes — because that's what they are!

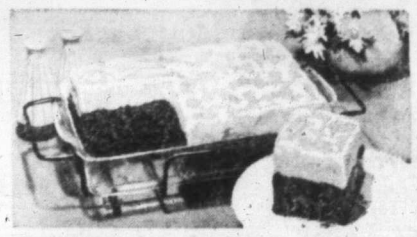

...and just look what Borden's new process lets you do with their instant potatoes

1. Instant potato croquettes. Prepare one envelope of Borden's Instant Whipped Potatoes, using 1 cup boiling water, ½ tsp. salt and ¼ cup milk; mix in one slightly beaten egg yolk, 2 tbsp. chopped parsley and 2 tbsp. grated onion. Let stand 3 minutes. Shape into cones. Dredge with flour, dip in slightly beaten egg white and roll in bread crumbs. Deep fry in hot shortening at 375°.

2. Instant potato cakes. Combine 1 envelope of Borden's Instant Whipped Potatoes, ½ tsp. salt, with 1½ cups of boiling water. Remove from heat. Mix in 1 slightly beaten egg. Let mixture stand 3 minutes. Shape into six cakes, brush with butter and coat well with fine bread crumbs or crushed cornflakes. Brown or sauté cakes in butter, turning once until golden brown. Voila! All ready!

3. Instant potato puff topping. While meat loaf, shepherd's pie, etc. is baking, prepare 1 envelope of Borden's Instant Whipped Potatoes as directed on back of package. Fold in 1 slightly beaten egg. Pack on top of meat loaf. Sprinkle with grated cheese or chopped parsley. Return meat loaf to oven and bake for 10 minutes or until delicately browned. To serve, cut into squares.

Winning Contract

By HOWARD SCHENKEN and RICHARD L. FREY

When faced with a desperate situation, you must grasp at any straw. If defeat is still inevitable, at least you know that you have tried your best. And, often enough, your best will be good enough.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	3 ♠	4 ♡
Dbl.	All Pass

Opening lead: ◇ 6

Robbed of necessary bidding space, South was in a quandary whether to double East or bid game himself. Note that three spades could have been set only one trick — not nearly enough to compensate for the loss of a vulnerable game.

Declarer won East's diamond jack with the ace, and realized that West must be void of spades. It was therefore imperative to prevent East from ever gaining the lead. But how could South rid himself of the losing diamond which would provide East with a sure in-card?

There was a ray of hope. Declarer cashed the ace and king of clubs. Next, he led the heart jack. West covered with the queen, and dummy won the ace. Holding his breath, South led a club from dummy, and when East showed out, he discarded the small diamond. West took the club and returned another low diamond, but South ruffed and played a second round of hearts. Try as he might, West could not put his partner on lead. South again ruffed the diamond continuation, drew trumps, and finally conceded a spade to East.

Four hearts doubled, bid and made, was ample reward for a nice piece of reasoning.

OAK BAY
LANSDOWNE RD.

Here is a particularly attractive, ranch-style home situated in the heart of Lansdowne Road's beautiful gardens. It contains large living room, guest-sized dining room, both having good views of the ocean, Olympic range, Victoria itself; very bright and attractive kitchen with large eating space, two large bedrooms, 2-pce bathroom off the master bedroom as well as the main 4-pce bathroom. In the full basement there is a complete 3-room, mother-in-law suite with a 3-pce bathroom, also a large rumpus room with a very handy bar, finished washroom, room for a workshop, plus lots of storage space. This home, which was built just under 4 yrs ago, has never before been offered for sale. Nicely-set on a large treed and artistically-landscaped lot which is partly-fenced to give seclusion, makes this truly one of the nicer homes to be offered on today's market. Terms can be arranged at the full price of $32,000

BITUMINOUS SURFACING 1960-61
CONTRACT No. S-0360
VICTORIA-SWARTZ BAY HIGHWAY
ARDWELL ROAD TO SWARTZ BAY AND TERMINAL SECTION
(Approximately 2.95 Miles)

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed tenders, marked "Tender for Bituminous Surfacing 1960-61, Contract No. S-0360" will be received by the Minister of Highways in his office at the Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C., up to 2.00 p.m. (Pacific Standard Time) on Friday the 26th day of March, 1960, and opened in public at that time and date.

Plans, specifications, and conditions of tender may be obtained from the Department of Highways, 635 Burrard Street, Vancouver 1, B.C., or from the undersigned for the sum of ten dollars ($10) which is not refundable.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque or a bid bond in an amount equal to five per cent (5%) of the tender price. This cheque or bond shall be forfeited if the tenderer declines to enter into contract. If a bid bond is used, a performance bond in the amount of one hundred per cent (100%) of the tendered sum, in a form acceptable to the Minister of Finance, must then be provided by the successful bidder prior to the award of the contract. If a deposit cheque is used it shall be retained and forfeited if the contractor fails to carry out the work contracted.

Tenders must be made out on the forms supplied and enclosed in the envelope furnished.

Tenderers must submit with their tenders a list stating the type, capacity and present location; also that inspection can be made if necessary of the equipment in their possession or at their disposal which is immediately available for the carrying out of the work within the time limit specified without in any way curtailing or delaying any Departmental project that may be under contract at this date. No tender will be considered which does not contain this information.

No tender will be accepted or considered which contains an escalator clause of any other qualifying conditions and the lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

It is preferred that tenderers submit with their tenders a schedule of proposed construction operations showing estimated monthly progress for each phase of the construction work.

African Mine Tragedy 'Biggest Blunder Ever'

COALBROOK, South Africa (Reuters)—A government mining engineer has described as "blunder and bungle" the attempts to rescue 435 miners who died in a coal mine disaster here in January.

Engineer W. T. Dalling in a statement said that a seam at the local mine where the men died was mined in an impractical and haphazard way.

After the 435 miners were trapped by cave-ins, Dalling said, "the whole rescue effort, apart from certain teams and technicians, was the biggest blunder and bungle I have ever heard of in the mining industry."

Pacific Club Tax Appeal Loses Out

The Pacific Club failed this week in an attempt to free itself of business-tax assessment on its catering services on the grounds that only members and their guests were served.

Alan Bigelow maintained for the club before a city court of revision that it was a society, not a business, and "the only persons allowed on the premises are members or their guests, and each guest is signed in."

Assessor Ronald Wells, however, listed a number of associations and clubs meeting regularly at the Pacific Club, and quoted a letter offering luncheon and dinner facilities.

"I have been to luncheons there and never signed in," said court member Ald. Austin Curtis. "I think they're in the catering business."

Naval salvage experts are scheduled to return to Esquimalt at 9 a.m. today after apparently failing to identify the century-old mystery wreck in Sidney Inlet on the west coast of Vancouver Island. Bad weather hampered divers in their second unsuccessful attempt in five months.

Free Spending, Foreign Bankrolls

Bitter Awakening Ahead Top Banker Tells Canada

Unemployment, Recession Could Confront the Nation

OTTAWA (CP)—The country's top banker told Canadians Tuesday they face a bitter awakening if they continue their free-spending ways financed by foreign bankrolls.

(See also Harry Young's comments on page 6)

Over-spending on capital growth and consumer goods—"the attempt to accomplish too much too fast"—carries the germs of recession and unemployment, governor James E. Coyne of the Bank of Canada said in his annual report tabled in the Commons.

It had led to a whopping $5,335,000,000 current deficit in international payments for the last four years, offset by foreign capital investments in Canada.

The longer this continues, Mr. Coyne said, "the more maladjustments will be built into our economy and the more difficult and painful will be the readjustments which will in time be forced upon us."

Live Within Means

"We must in the end learn as a nation to live within our means, and exhibit the strength and will to do so. It would in my view be the path of realism to move firmly in that direction on a broad front without delay."

Mr. Coyne said Canada can achieve substantial annual increases in production and living standards without foreign aid "and without inviting foreign domination of our national life."

This would require avoidance of over-spending and over-borrowing, adoption of sound development programs and promotion of more diversified production.

"We need only to be aware of our problems to tackle them, to cast aside easy-going illusions and stand on our own feet."

Canada's record $1,460,000,000 international payments deficit last year resulted from a $386,000,000 commodity trade deficit and a $1,074,000,000 deficit in "invisible" transactions such as dividend and interest payments on foreign investments, travel and tourist spending and freight costs.

"We now are launched on another year with the prospective excess of total spending over production being greater than ever, presumably to be matched by an equivalent excess of imports which will have to be financed by foreign resources in one form or another.

Weaken the Economy

"The cumulative effect . . . must be to weaken the ability of the Canadian economy to meet the difficulties of the next recession to come upon us from abroad, and to make more likely the development of a domestic recession arising from excesses and structural strains within our own economy."

Even if Canada tries to continue this way, Mr. Coyne cautioned, "in a capital-hungry world we cannot in fact count on having ready access to foreign capital year after year on a large scale."

More diversified production in Canada would provide a higher average level of employment, less exposed to hazards of sudden change.

"A more moderate approach to economic development on the part of all sections of the community, and more emphasis on a balanced industrial structure, would also mean that Canadians would own a greater share in Canadian industry, that we would accumulate less debt to foreigners . . ."

It also would mean a smaller burden of paying for foreign debt, which could become a "serious embarrassment" with a major decline in the exchange value of the Canadian dollar requiring payment in more expensive foreign currencies.

Mr. Coyne's report suggested that governments adopt special measures in meeting problems such as aid to small businesses, to Canadian firms competing with foreign-owned subsidiaries, to individual industries and to particular areas.

Arms Parley

Shaky Start Made

GENEVA (CP) — The first East-West effort since 1957 to end the world arms race made a wobbly start Tuesday.

Delegates of the five Soviet bloc countries threw cold water on the proposal of the five Western countries for step-by-step disarmament under international supervision.

Premier Khrushchev sent a message to the opening session saying:

"I am deeply convinced that the day is not far off when the age-old dream of humanity will come true and the world will live without arms or war."

SHARP REBUKE

Criticism of the Western plan by the Soviet deputy foreign minister, Valerian Zorin, drew a sharp rebuke from the British minister of state David Ormsby-Gore.

He recalled that Khrushchev warned in Moscow Sept. 28 against "hurried statements" about the various disarmament proposals made at that time.

"I think those were very wise words," Ormsby-Gore said.

SECRECY FEAR

For Canada, Lt.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns said his government viewed the conference's first task as the destruction of the "complex of secrecy, suspense and fear" that stands in the way of effective disarmament measures.

More Than 400 Held

Gas, Fire Hose Used In Negroes' Arrest

ORANGEBURG, S.C. (AP) — More than 400 Negroes were arrested in South Carolina Tuesday—359 of them in Orangeburg — during demonstrations against segregated seating at lunch counters.

Police used tear gas and fire hoses to put down a demonstration by an estimated 1,000 Negro students here. Those arrested were charged with breach of the peace and were released on $10 bond each.

SEVENTY ARRESTED

Seventy were arrested at Rock Hill, 60 miles north of Columbia, as they picketed city hall. Ten more were arrested at Columbia and charged with trespassing at lunch counters in variety stores.

The mass arrests brought from the president of the state conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People a charge that police are using "strong-arm, fascist-like tactics. . . ."

FEDERAL AGENCIES

Rev. H. P. Sharper, a Baptist minister, said the arrests, and any resulting convictions, would be appealed "to federal agencies."

He charged that "responsible officials of our state and municipalities have shown no inclination to hear the students' grievances or to seek a democratic solution to the problems posed by their protests."

PROTEST MARCH

The arrests here came after a group of a dozen or so officers attempted to break up a protest march by about 1,000 students from the local South Carolina A and T and Claflin colleges.

When the students, marching in groups of about 100, refused to disperse, fire hoses were turned on three groups and two tear gas canisters were exploded at another group.

Bryant Tory Choice

James Bryant, deputy reeve of Esquimalt and a municipal councillor for 10 years, will carry the Progressive Conservative banner in the next provincial election in Esquimalt riding.

He won out over lawyer R. L. McQuarrie at a nomination meeting last night in St. Paul's Church.

Mr. Bryant will retire from the naval dockyard engineering department in May after 26 years' service.

Briton Mourns Caesar's Death

LONDON (Reuters)—The Times carried the following in its "In Memoriam" column Tuesday: "Caesar—in respectful memory of Gaius Julius Caesar, foully murdered in the Senate House, Rome, on the Ides of March, 44 B.C."

Alsbury Blasts Bennett

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor Tom Alsbury exploded Tuesday in a demand that Premier Bennett communicate properly with city council.

"I get sick and tired of these backstairs suggestions that we get second hand," the mayor said in a council meeting.

His ire was raised at a report from Ald. S. Moffitt, who talked with Mr. Bennett in Victoria during the weekend about increased highways grants to Vancouver.

Vancouver will get $350,000 instead of the usual $23,000 for roadwork within the city this year, but council was told the money will be granted on a matching basis for improving approach roads to toll bridges and highways.

BCE Owners' Profit Up to $11,271,492

B.C. Power Corporation, parent company of BCE, made a net profit of $11,271,492 ($2.48 a share) in 1959. Earnings for the three previous years were $1.95; $2.34 and $2.33 a share.

Record customer demand for electricity and gas increased sales to $96,923,531 — up 16.4 per cent from 1958.

Operating expenses were $70,744,913—up 18.3 per cent.

Electricity sales jumped 9 per cent to 3,300,000,000 kilowatt hours.

Natural gas sales soared 60 per cent to 138,322,367 therms.

New gas customers 16,000, making total of 108,327.

Transportation business was depressed with passengers carried dropping from 101,000,000 in 1958 to 90,700,000 in 1959.

Quota Boost Unconfirmed

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming declined Tuesday to comment on a report that Japan's quotas on textile exports to Canada will be increased about 5 or 10 per cent during 1960.

Argue Hits Fleming

Mortgage Loan 'Choke' Charged

OTTAWA (UPI) — CCF House leader Hazen Argue last night accused Finance Minister Donald Fleming of being a dictator who was "choking off" federal mortgage funds in order to balance the budget.

He also said housing legislation now before the House of Commons was a "half-baked measure" which did not fulfill the government's promises.

Argue's half-hour speech touched off one of the noisiest exchanges of the session with Speaker Roland Michener ruling the socialist out of order about a dozen times as he wandered off the subject to criticize the government.

The debate was on second reading of a bill to authorize the government to increase by $500,000,000 the amount of money that can be loaned by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Works Minister David Walker, who was guiding the legislation through the Commons, said the greatest home construction in Canadian history was under way. He said 400,000 new homes have been built in the two-and-a-half years the Conservatives have been in power.

He predicted there would be 80-85,000 houses started this year with private funds, 20,000 started with government-guaranteed loans and 15,000 with direct government loans.

Earlier J. R. Garland (L-Nipissing) charged that the lending under the National Housing Act had "practically collapsed."

Garland said the government was "playing politics with housing and was using it at this time as a whipping boy."

Canadian Skim Milk In Bad Odor

TOKYO (AP) — Authorities of Okayama in southwestern Japan temporarily suspended the use of Canadian-imported skim milk distributed in primary schools after they found some of the milk had a bad odor. They said 115 children and six teachers at one school had symptoms of stomach pains and diarrhea last week after drinking the milk.

Warning—Beware Fraud Fake Sweep Ticket Label

MONTREAL (CP) — Police said three men are to be charged in court later today with operating a fake sweepstake in which tickets bearing the message "Warning—beware of fraud" were sold on non-existent horse races in California and Florida. Police said they believe no money was ever paid out and that examination of the list of winners showed that the horses did not exist.

Two men were arrested in raids Sunday and Monday on printing plants in Montreal and suburban Croydon. Sheets and booklets containing approximately 1,000,000 bogus tickets were seized.

City directories for Toronto, Ottawa, Vancouver and other cities were seized in the raids.

Smouldering Embers Once a Home

Dejected as they inspect smouldering embers of their home that burned to the ground yesterday south of Duncan are Nils Reierson and his son, Raymond, 18.—(Colonist photo by Charles Thompson.)

* * *

'Haven't Got a Thing'

DUNCAN—A three-bedroom farmhouse was razed by flames yesterday while the father was hunting for a job and the mother was doing church work.

Left without clothing and furniture is the family of Nils Reierson, 48, whose home on Vaux Road, three miles south of here, burned unchecked.

"I guess we need just about everything," said Mr. Reierson, unemployed since July 31 last year. "We haven't got a thing, except a few bits of clothing someone saved."

Executive of the Glenora Community Association has started a drive for clothing and furniture for the family.

The company fire department of Shawnigan division, MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Co., prevented flames from spreading to a nearby water reservoir structure and five other small buildings, including a barn.

Only casualty was the family's pet dog, Peter, who died after running out of the house and then taking refuge during the fire under the structure.

Mr. Reierson said he was renting the house, owned by A. F. Cade of Burnaby, and could give no estimate of its value.

The alarm was turned in by Mrs. Lewis Lee, a neighbor, who ran to the house when the kitchen was filled with flames. She turned on a small garden hose but was driven back by the heat.

Mr. Reierson said only four of his six children stay at home. They are Ann, 10, Philip, 12, Ivan, 15, and Raymond, 18.

He estimated that about half of the contents of the house were covered by insurance, about $3,500, but that he had little chance to immediately replace what he lost with the $30-a-week payment from unemployment insurance.

Friends have donated beds and a stove. The Canadian Red Cross gave the family all the bedding needed. Furniture and clothing are needed most.

Any donations can be left at the Glenora Community Hall, or arrangements will be made to have articles picked up by calling Alex Peters at Duncan 1174 R2.

The family stayed with friends last night. They will eventually move into a home on McClay Road, about three miles away, which Mr. Reierson had rented previously with plans to move.

Assessment Pact Broken

'Firm Subsidized Long Enough'

MAYOR LORAN JORDON
. . . 'fought since '54'

PORT ALBERNI — Mayor Loran Jordon last night hailed the news that the big pulp and paper industry would be footing its full share of school tax bills in the future.

"That's good," he said. "It's what I've been fighting for since 1954.

"I think we've been subsidizing the company long enough."

Mayor Jordon said he believes the introduction of the bill was a direct result of a brief presented by council members to the cabinet on Jan. 7.

MacMillan & Bloedel officials were not available for comment last night.

A city official calculated that $5,000,000 in taxes are involved in the five-year period that would have remained before the agreement was up.

He pointed out that the combination of the fixed-assessment agreement and the Assessment Equalization Act had been to the effect that the provinical government share of school costs in Port Alberni for 1959 were based on taxable values totalling $47,019,851.

On the other hand, he said, the city had to raise its share for school costs on values totalling $15,409,433.

If it had not been for the grants made by the company, it would have required a mill rate for school purposes of 50.196, or approximately triple the current rate.

MacMillan and Bloedel's Port Alberni operations will lose its 15-year immunity to rising assessments in a bill introduced in the legislature yesterday by Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

When passed, the Act will remove the under-assessment for local school tax levy purposes fixed at $800,000 in a 1945 Port Alberni bylaw and scheduled to run 20 years.

Port Alberni council has been fighting for removal of the fixed-assessment bylaw as placing an unfair burden on taxpayers of the city since the Assessment Equalization Act's provisions made sweeping changes in taxing formulas in 1956.

The agreement, due to terminate in 1965, was upheld by the B.C. Appeal Court and the Supreme Court of Canada last year in the face of council efforts to have it declared illegal.

The city council contended that the Assessment Equalization Act abrogated the agreement, and the B.C. Supreme Court had upheld council's stand in 1958.

Property and installations at the Alberni Pulp and Paper division of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd., are now valued at more than $32,000,000.

In the past two years, while litigation was in progress, the company has made grants equal to the amount which would have been collected in school taxes had the agreement not existed.

The bill introduced yesterday would become effective after Dec. 31, 1959.

The bill provides for the mill rate, and makes provision for the 1960 assessment-roll revisions for the city relating to an equitable level of assessed values on major industrial property because the date for completion of assessment rolls is now past.

Newcastle Island Transfer Backed

NANAIMO (CP) — City council has agreed to transfer 750-acre Newcastle Island to the recreation and conservation department for development as a park.

Mayor Pete Maffeo told council Monday that the provincial government was enthusiastic about the transfer, and that Victoria had already discussed with the federal government the possibility of building a bridge to the island in Nanaimo harbor.

Ald. Jack Parker said the department had agreed to all the city's proposals in regard to the transfer of the city-owned island. This included development of a master plan to turn the island into a park-land, maintenance of existing facilities and the ferry service, and a start on preliminary development this year.

Duncan to Evaluate Firms by the Foot

DUNCAN — Businessmen here will soon be able to figure the worth of their businesses by the foot.

City council has approved the preparation of a bylaw and business rental map for a tax that may be levied against businesses.

It will mean the city will assess the value of having a business and its relative worth on each street in the downtown section. The scheme is already in operation in Victoria and Vancouver.

Mayor Jack Dobson proposed the idea to council Monday and said that because of the amount of work being done, such as the new parking lot, it might be advisable to consider a business tax.

Already designated the most expensive corner in town is the intersection of Craig and Station Streets.

Americans Wage War on B.C. Game Fish, Chambers Believe

Have American yachtsmen adopted the sea and air tactics of the Second World War's Pacific campaign for their sport fishing forays into B.C. waters?

The fisheries committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island seems to think so.

In a resolution scheduled to go before the ACCVI's annual meeting at Port Alberni later this week the committee points out that U.S. yachts are acting as "mother ships" to fleets of outboards and amphibious planes, and also as floating canneries to process the catches of their guests and clients.

"The practice of one large yacht anchored in a strategic location and used as a depot canning shop and accommodation for relays of visitors arriving by aircraft should be stopped," the resolution states.

"It is recommended that vessels for hire or charter should be limited to two power tenders carried aboard. . . ."

The resolution states that some U.S. charter boats have been observed in B.C. waters carrying as many as eight outboard tenders.

"Amphibious planes are used to bring relays of guests to the anchored yachts, there, they fly the guests into interior lakes and other areas where large quantities of trout are caught, brought out and canned aboard," the submission continues.

"The canning of salmon and steelhead is carried on at the same time aboard these yachts.

"This practice is mainly carried out by United States yachts."

B.C. Electric Polite, Firm

Edgelow, Mooney Tangle

The B.C. Electric yesterday appeared ready to reject, politely but firmly, an attempt by city representatives to do some "horse-trading" over a Thetis Lake power-line route.

"We have made a firm offer to city council, and we hope it will be carefully studied in the terms in which it was made," a company spokesman said. "The offer was developed as an answer to a rather complex problem, and we feel it is extremely fair—generous—and we would appreciate it being considered in that light."

GIVE CITY $5,200

He referred to the company's offer to give the city $5,200 and 250 acres around and including Durrance Lake in return for 104 acres along the northeastern edge of the city's Thetis Lake property.

City council public works and parks committee met jointly yesterday to consider this offer, and decided:

- By a 3-2 vote, that the Thetis Lake watershed area should be kept intact; in other words, that none of it should be sold outright.
- That Aldermen Austin Curtis and M. H. Mooney should negotiate with B.C. Electric to determine the best terms possible, using as a "basis" a report from a committee of city officials recommending that the company be given an easement for the $5,200 and Durrance Lake, but that the city retain title.

Ald. M. H. Mooney, who earlier had declared, "As far as I'm concerned, I'm a horse-trader," summed it up: "We are just to see the best possible terms we can get."

UNDERGROUND

At one point in the discussion, after saying he understood it would cost the B.C. Electric $150,000 extra to take the power line around the Thetis Lake property, he proposed that as one of the terms of securing an easement the company should be required to lay the power-line underground.

The suggestion led to a brief tilt when Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said that "no sane thinking man could possibly go along with what Ald. Mooney suggests."

NOT SANE?

"What do you mean?" Ald. Mooney demanded. "You mean I'm not a sane man? Are you telling us for them what they're going to do?"

"It's ridiculous!" said Ald. Elgelow.

"It's not ridiculous!"

"I call for order," said Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean.

The company spokesman said later that cost of placing the lines underground through the Thetis Lake property would be around $300,000.

TITLE TO LAND

He also said the company felt it was meeting the request of city council in "removing the line from the park" by offering Durrance Lake and $5,200 for title to the land for the power-line.

"This was the answer to objections to having a line in a park," he said. "We felt in owning the land, through making a generous trade, that problem would be solved."

In the committee debate, Aldermen Edgelow and Elmer McEwen voted against calling for the Thetis Lake property to be kept intact, and Aldermen Mooney, Mrs. Lily Wilson and Dr. McLean for it.

Ald. Wilson was against negotiating with the company over an easement.

"I'm not in favor of an easement at all," she said.

Aldermen Start Work On City Budget Friday

Aldermanic work on 1960 budget estimates will begin Friday at city hall. Parks committee will lead the way, starting to consider parks, health and welfare estimates after a regular meeting Friday morning. Davis Murder Trial

Bloodstains in Home Were Never Analyzed

Dead Man Had Throat Cut

Bloodstains scattered through the Crescent Road home in which William A. Davis met his death more than 12 years ago were never analyzed, a former city detective told an Assize Court jury yesterday.

Testimony of ex-detective Percy Richards came towards the close of the first day in the trial of Edith Etheline (Ivy) Davis on a charge of murdering her car-dealer husband in their home on Oct. 7, 1947.

ONLY 13 MINUTES

On Monday a sanity hearing jury deliberated only 13 minutes to decide that Mrs. Davis, who for more than 12 years has been an inmate of Essondale Mental Hospital, was fit to stand trial.

Mr. Richards, who retired from the city police force in 1955, said under cross-examination by defence counsel Henry Castillou Jr. that bloodstains in the 1852 Crescent Road home were not subjected to analysis.

"It could have been ketchup?" asked counsel.

"It could have been," replied Richards.

SLOPPY WORK

"Isn't this a most sloppy piece of detective work?" Mr. Castillou asked.

"I couldn't say that," the former detective answered.

Referring to bloodstains on a knife-sharpener found in the kitchen of the Davis home, defence counsel asked if they could not have come from the deceased, the accused, "or a detective?"

"It wasn't a detective — I was the only detective there," said the ex-policeman.

FOUND IN HOUSE

He said a photographer at the scene did not photograph a bloodstained knife said to have been found in the house.

Earlier, another former member of the city police force, ex-constable Rodney McNeil, said a picture of the knife should have been taken. (The knife is among a number of exhibits in the Davis case which have vanished from court registry storage.)

FOUND ON TABLE

Witnesses yesterday described the knife as being 13 to 14 inches long overall, and said it was found on a telephone table in the hall of the Davis home some distance from where Mr. Davis was found sprawled on the living room floor and Mrs. Davis was slumped in a chair.

Edward Davis, son of the deceased, said he found his father, apparently dead, with his throat cut.

The accused, who he said he knew as "Ivy Davis," was slouched in a chair a few feet away and "seemed to be still alive," her throat also cut and her wrists slashed.

TOLD ABOUT IT

He said his father was separated from his mother and, under cross-examination, said he had never seen a Washington state marriage licence bearing the names of the accused woman and his father, but had been told about it.

The trial is scheduled to resume at 10.30 a.m. today before Mr. Justice D. R. Verchere.

Airport Scheme Scouted

Mayor Percy Scurrah gave short shrift yesterday to the suggestion of an airline official that Victoria should give more serious consideration to local control and operation of Patricia Bay airport.

W. J. Dalby, western sales manager of Trans-Canada Air Lines, made the suggestion in a panel discussion.

"I would take a very dim view of it," Mayor Scurrah said yesterday. "I want no part of control of the airport. We have plenty of troubles of our own without adding the airport to it.

"To my mind, it's not a city of Victoria responsibility. Why should we take it on for the benefit not just of our citizens, but of a greater number from outside the city?"

B.C. Telephone Plan

CCF Up in Arms Over Phone Deal

The B.C. Telephone Company is preparing to purchase control of the North-West Telephone Company, it was disclosed in the legislature yesterday.

A bill was introduced to amend the North-West Telephone Company's Act, 1929, to pave the way for the transaction, and it brought the CCF opposition down with both feet.

"It would put control of the North-West Telephone Co. under the federal board of transport commissioners, instead of under the Pubilc Utilities Commission," Mr. Strachan warned.

He said the people of B.C. have no say or jurisdiction over the type of telephone service they get.

He told of the interlocking ownerships of telephone companies and said control of B.C. Telephone Company ends up in New York City. "The business and domestic life of British Columbians is being controlled by a foreign organization," he complained. He said the new move would be an "encroachment on the autonomy of the people of B.C."

He claimed the board of transport commissioners really exercises very little control over the B.C. Telephone Company.

"Whether or not the bill before the House is approved, the result which the phone company seeks might have been otherwise obtained," Attorney-General Bonner explained. "It is a credit to the phone company that they came before the House . . . The company has acted in candor."

He said the real complaint is the remoteness of the board of transport commissioners. He said it is his intention to ask that in matters pertaining to this province, that the board of transport commissioners convene in B.C.

The telephone bill passed second reading.

Youngsters Set Ruins Afire Again

City firemen returned yesterday afternoon to the ruins of the Crowe, Gonnason Lumber Co. plant on Government, to extinguish a small fire in a rear-area shed.

The blaze was quickly extinguished, doing scant damage to a structure already scorched in the huge fire two weeks ago.

Fire Chief James Bayliss said yesterday's fire was set, probably by irresponsible youngsters.

Firemen keeping an eye on the burned-out buildings, the chief said, have been plagued by youngsters prowling through the ruins.

As a result, a company spokesman announced yesterday, a watchman for the old plant would be hired.

Ban-the-Issue Decree Overruled in Alberni

ALBERNI—Council Monday overruled an order given by Mayor Mabel Anderson on Feb. 7 when she decreed that future letters on the post office issue be withheld from the agenda.

When a vote was taken on the motion to rescind the order, Ald. R. R. Foxcroft, G. A. Dunbar and C. M. Blair voted with the proposer, Ald. T. S. Barnett. Ald. Gordon Lundine abstained.

Action of the council was taken after Mayor Anderson refused a request from Ald. Barnett that she rescind the order herself.

During discussion of the motion, Ald. Barnett claimed that the mayor had no right to withhold any correspondence on any issue from the council. He declared that her action struck at the root of freedom.

"Council should not condone nor accept the action. It is a grave and serious matter. The action is more important than the contents of the letter," he said.

While the motion was still on the floor, Rev. Glen Stevenson came from among the 50 or more spectators, and on invitation of the mayor, addressed the council. He stated that the mayor is a lady and should be treated as such.

He suggested that the council had been "a little too vindictive" in their attitude toward Mayor Anderson. "This is not a sermon, but if it's a sermon you want, I can give you a jolly good one," he declared.

He closed his remarks with the statement that, although he was not a member of council, he may be some day, and that he had no doubt he could contribute more than some of the present members.

At this point, Ald. Dunbar rose to point out that Mr. Stevenson had not received permission of the council to speak.

Shaky Start Made

GENEVA (CP) — The first East-West effort since 1957 to end the world arms race made a wobbly start Tuesday.

Delegates of the five Soviet bloc countries threw cold water on the proposal of the five Western countries for a step-by-step disarmament under international supervision.

Premier Khrushchev sent a message to the opening session saying:

"I am deeply convinced that the day is not far off when the age-old dream of humanity will come true and the world will live without arms or war."

SHARP REBUKE

Criticism of the Western plan by the Soviet deputy foreign minister, Valerian Zorin, drew a sharp rebuke from the British minister of state David Ormsby-Gore.

He recalled that Khrushchev warned in Moscow Sept. 28 against "hurried statements" about the various disarmament proposals made at that time.

"I think those were very wise words," Ormsby-Gore said.

SECRECY FEAR

For Canada, Lt.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns said his government viewed the conference's first task as the destruction of the "complex of secrecy, suspense and fear" that stands in the way of effective disarmament measures.

'Too Much, Too Fast'

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's senior banker told Canadians Tuesday they face a bitter awakening if they continue their free-spending ways financed by foreign bankrolls.

★ ★ ★

Over-spending on capital growth and consumer goods—"the attempt to accomplish too much too fast"—carries the germs of recession and unemployment, governor James E. Coyne of the Bank of Canada said in his annual report tabled in the Commons.

It had led to a whopping $5,335,000,000 current deficit in international payments for the last four years, offset by foreign capital investments in Canada.

The longer this continues, Mr. Coyne said, "the more maladjustments will be built into our economy and the more difficult and painful will be the readjustments which will in time be forced upon us."

JAMES E. COYNE
. . . worried

Live Within Means

"We must in the end learn as a nation to live within our means, and exhibit the strength and will to do so. It would in my view be the path of realism to move firmly in that direction on a broad front without delay."

Mr. Coyne said Canada can achieve substantial annual increases in production and living standards without foreign aid "and without inviting foreign domination of our national life."

This would require avoidance of over-spending and over-borrowing, adoption of sound development programs and promotion of more diversified production.

"We need only to be aware of our problems to tackle them, to cast aside easy-going illusions and stand on our own feet."

Canada's record $1,460,000,000 international payments deficit last year resulted from a $386,000,000 commodity trade deficit and a $1,074,000,000 deficit in "invisible" transactions such as dividend and interest payments on foreign investments, travel and tourist spending and freight costs.

"We now are launched on another year with the prospective excess of total spending over production being greater than ever, presumably to be matched by an equivalent excess of imports which will have to be financed by foreign resources in one form or another.

Weaken the Economy

"The cumulative effect . . . must be to weaken the ability of the Canadian economy to meet the difficulties of the next recession to come upon us from abroad, and to make more likely the development of a domestic recession arising from excesses and structural strains within our own economy."

Even if Canada tries to continue this way, Mr. Coyne cautioned, "in a capital-hungry world we cannot in fact count on having ready access to foreign capital year after year on a large scale."

More diversified production in Canada would provide a higher average level of employment, less exposed to hazards of sudden change.

"A more moderate approach to economic development on the part of all sections of the community, and more emphasis on a balanced industrial structure, would also mean that Canadians would own a greater share in Canadian industry, that we would accumulate less debt to foreigners . . ."

It also would mean a smaller burden of paying for foreign debt, which could become a "serious embarrassment" with a major decline in the exchange value of the Canadian dollar requiring payment in more expensive foreign currencies.

Mr. Coyne's report suggested that governments adopt special measures in meeting problems such as aid to small businesses, to Canadian firms competing with foreign-owned subsidiaries, to individual industries and to particular areas.

Alsbury Blasts Bennett

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor Tom Alsbury exploded Tuesday in a demand that Premier Bennett communicate properly with city council.

"I get sick and tired of these backstairs suggestions that we get second hand," the mayor said in a council meeting.

His ire was raised at a report from Ald. S. Moffitt, who talked with Mr. Bennett in Victoria during the weekend about increased highways grants to Vancouver.

Vancouver will get $350,000 instead of the usual $23,000 for roadwork within the city this year, but council was told the money will be granted on a matching basis for improving approach roads to toll bridges and highways.

Gas, Fire Hose Used In Negroes' Arrest

ORANGEBURG, S.C. (AP) — More than 400 Negroes were arrested in South Carolina Tuesday—359 of them in Orangeburg — during demonstrations against segregated seating at lunch counters.

Police used tear gas and fire hoses to put down a demonstration by an estimated 1,000 Negro students here. Those arrested were charged with breach of the peace and were released on $10 bond each.

SEVENTY ARRESTED

Seventy were arrested at Rock Hill, 60 miles north of Columbia, as they picketed city hall. Ten more were arrested at Columbia and charged with trespassing at lunch counters in variety stores.

The mass arrests brought from the president of the state conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People a charge that police are using "strong-arm, fascist-like tactics. . . ."

FEDERAL AGENCIES

Rev. H. P. Sharper, a Baptist minister, said the arrests, and any resulting convictions, would be appealed "to federal agencies."

He charged that "responsible officials of our state and municipalities have shown no inclination to hear the students' grievances or to seek a democratic solution to the problems posed by their protests."

PROTEST MARCH

The arrests here came after a group of a dozen or so officers attempted to break up a protest march by about 1,000 students from the local South Carolina A and T and Claflin colleges.

When the students, marching in groups of about 100, refused to disperse, fire hoses were turned on three groups and two tear gas canisters were exploded at another group.

B.C. Power Corporation, parent company of BCE, made a net profit of $11,271,492 ($2.48 a share) in 1959. Earnings for the three previous years were $1.95, $2.34 and $2.33 a share.

Record customer demand for electricity and gas increased sales to $96,923,531 — up 16.4 per cent from 1958.

Operating expenses were $70,744,913—up 18.3 per cent.

Electricity sales jumped 9 per cent to 3,300,000,000 kilowatt hours.

Natural gas sales soared 60 per cent to 138,322,367 therms.

New gas customers were 16,000, for a total of 108,327.

Transportation business was depressed with passengers carried dropping from 101,000,000 in 1958 to 90,700,000 in 1959.

Heated Debate Ended

After an often-heated, six-hour debate, the legislature passed the $21,720 salary vote of Lands and Forests Minister Williston at 12.23 a.m. today.

Argue Hits Fleming

Mortgage Loan 'Choke' Charged

OTTAWA (UPI) — CCF House leader Hazen Argue last night accused Finance Minister Donald Fleming of being a dictator who was "choking off" federal mortgage funds in order to balance the budget.

He also said housing legislation now before the House of Commons was a "half-baked measure" which did not fulfill the government's promises.

Argue's half-hour speech touched off one of the noisiest exchanges of the session with Speaker Roland Michener ruling the socialist out of order about a dozen times as he wandered off the subject to criticize the government.

The debate was on second reading of a bill to authorize the government to increase by $500,000,000 the amount of money that can be loaned by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Works Minister David Walker, who was guiding the legislation through the Commons, said the greatest home construction in Canadian history was under way. He said 400,000 new homes have been built in the two-and-a-half years the Conservatives have been in power.

He predicted there would be 80-85,000 houses started this year with private funds, 20,000 started with government-guaranteed loans and 15,000 with direct government loans.

Earlier J. R. Garland (L-Nipissing) charged that the lending under the National Housing Act had "practically collapsed."

Garland said the government was "playing politics with housing and was using it at this time as a whipping boy."

Canadian Skim Milk In Bad Odor

TOKYO (AP) — Authorities in Okayama in southwestern Japan temporarily suspended the use of Canadian-imported skim milk distributed in primary schools after they found some of the milk had a bad odor. They said 115 children and six teachers at one school had symptoms of stomach pains and diarrhea last week after drinking the milk.

Warning—Beware Fraud Fake Sweep Ticket Label

MONTREAL (CP) — Police said three men are to be charged in court later today with operating a fake sweepstake in which tickets bearing the message "Warning — beware of fraud" were sold on non-existent horse races in California and Florida. Police said they believe no money was ever paid out and that examination of the list of winners showed that the horses did not exist.

Two men were arrested in raids Sunday and Monday on printing plants in Montreal and suburban Croydon. Sheets and booklets containing approximately 1,000,000 bogus tickets were seized.

City directories for Toronto, Ottawa, Vancouver and other cities were seized in the raids.
